Progress Made At St. Joseph's In Cancer Work

Tumors Reduced, Some Disappear Altogether; Seek Absolute Cure

Dr. Ivan C. C. Tchaperoff, St. Joseph's Hospital radiologist, has been able to produce a cancer treatment "the results of which have already reduced tumor so as to remove danger in some cases, and in other cases have caused the tumor to disappear altogether."

Sister Superior Rose Mary of St. Joseph's issued this statement yesterday, but warned that "Dr. Tchaperoff does not claim to know the cause of cancer nor to have developed an absolute cure. Further research is necessary in this matter."

Sister Rose Mary, Secretary R. C. Newby of the Victoria Medical Society, and Dr. Tchaperoff himself protested against earlier "unauthorized" statements about the treatment which appeared in a Vancouver newspaper.

"False hopes of cure are bound to be aroused in the minds of patients by such misleading statements," Dr. Newby said.

A St. Joseph's Hospital statement in mid-March said that the drug para-aminobenzoic acid has been used by St. Joseph's Hospital for two years in the treatment of radiation sickness "with excellent results."

"Our specialists have found it to have other remarkable potentialities in the treatment of cancer," which are still under investigation," the earlier statement said.

Following is full text of yesterday's statement from Sister Rose Mary, Sister Superior:—

"It is unfortunate that an unauthorized statement re the advances made in the treatment of cancer at St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria was published in the Vancouver press under the caption: 'Cancer Cure Gains Made at Victoria.'

"Doctor Ivan C. C. Tchaperoff, who has been radiologist at St. Joseph's Hospital for some years, and whose service at the hospital was temporarily interrupted to engage in war work, has been studying the use of radio-therapy in the treatment of malignant tumor commonly called cancer, and has been able to develop a treatment the results of which have reduced tumor so as to remove danger in some cases, and in other case have caused the tumor to disappear altogether.

"Doctor Tchaperoff does not claim to know the cause of cancer nor to have developed an absolute cure; further research is necessary in this matter. Although the results of present investigation seem promising, St. Joseph's Hospital Cancer Clinic Board of Trustees, who have complete control of research investigations, treatments, etc., have thought it is not timely to make any public statement.

"They have applied for financial assistance from the British Columbia Cancer Foundation, and have asked for a share to the extent of $200,000 of the funds collected from the public by the Cancer Foundation. With the necessary financial support assured, further work can be done in the line of research, care of indigent patients, and extension of the bed space for the St. Joseph's Hospital Cancer Clinic in Victoria.

"Until this goal is assured it is emphasized that premature speculations are bound to result in hasty and misleading impressions as to the present state of achievement."

Federal Aid To Benefit Work Here

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—Federal Health Minister Martin said today the Government's new national health program "will mean that we will be able to give important financial assistance" to cancer research in Victoria's St. Joseph's Hospital.

Officials of the British Columbia Cancer Foundation and Society said an investigation of the new treatment is planned.

A panel of experts likely would be named shortly by the society.

Plan Action on Schools As Crowding Imminent

Worried over delay in starting the school construction program, Greater Victoria School Board last night set up special committee to study the situation, after Chairman Austin I. Curtis warned that school accommodation will be "rather serious this September.

By-laws passed by the city and surrounding municipalities last June authorized borrowing of their $1,956,912 share of the $3,913,825 building program. Costs were estimated in 1946 and increases since then have raised estimated cost of the program much in excess of the amount ratepayers authorized to be borrowed. The Provincial Government was to pay the same amount as the total from the city and municipalities.

Mr. Curtis said the situation will get "progressively worse" unless new building is started and that "the time is approaching when something will have to be done."

He suggested that further by-laws should be passed to borrow the additional money now needed or the school board ask that another by-law be passed allowing a smaller program.

City Solicitor A. J. Patton has previously stated that the latter suggestion could not be carried out as the original money by-laws specified the amounts to be spent on specific projects in the program.

"I think we'll manage this September," said J. F. K. English, municipal inspector, "but we can't tell yet what the situation will be in September, 1949."

Trustee B. Caley was appointed chairman of the special committee. Members are Trustees R. Green, M. P. Paine, W. Jeune, and the two municipal inspectors.

The school program called for 10 new school buildings and additions at three schools.

Cancer Deaths Show Decline

Deaths from cancer in British Columbia are on the decline but the disease still ranks second among the leading causes of death, according to a bulletin of the Provincial Department of Health.

The report noted that the rate had increased from 127.4 per 100,000 population in 1938 to 148.3 in 1945, but during the past two years had declined to 140.5. The decrease was especially encouraging, it was noted, because of the trend toward an increase in the number of older residents, the group most affected by cancer deaths.

Part of the increase between 1938 and 1945, the report said, was due to more accurate diagnosis.

Nearly 80 per cent of deaths from cancer during the past five years have been in the 50 to 79 age group.

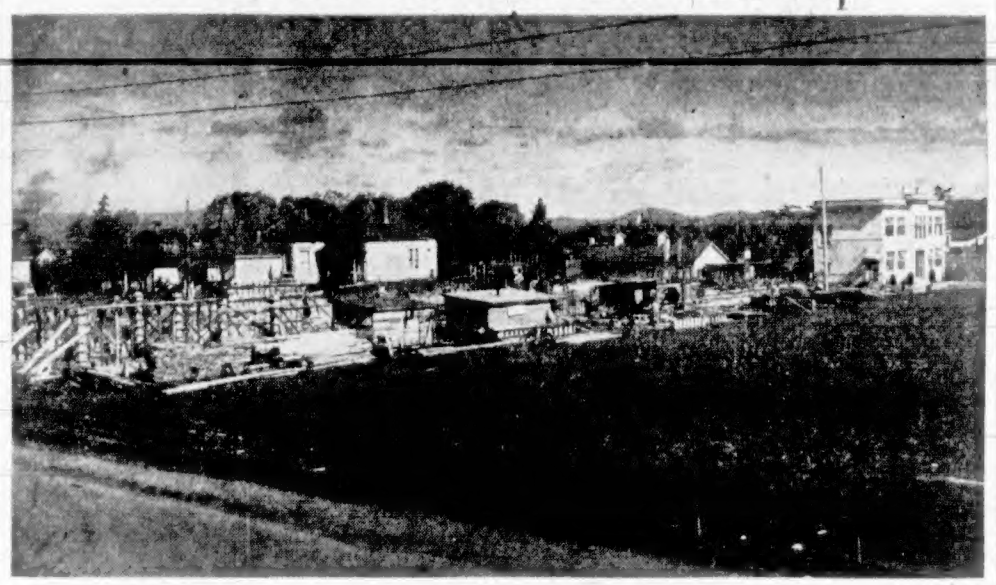
New Vocational-Technical School Takes Shape



Colonist Photo.

Work on the new $245,000 school on Victoria High School west grounds is well under way and the ultra-modern building will soon start to take form. Building officials expect the school to be finished before the end of this year. The building will contain six major shops, two drafting rooms, six lecture rooms and a number of smaller room's. Varied trade courses will be given. Commonwealth Construction Co. is the general contractor.

To Probe Fires Near Nelson

A FULL-SCALE investigation is being conducted into two fires in the Doukhobor areas around Nelson during the week-end, Provincial Police headquarters said yesterday.

Both fires were believed to have been deliberately set, it was reported, and it is suspected they may signify a new outbreak of terrorism in the Doukhobor settlements.

A warehouse belonging to Dora Zaitoff was demolished by fire at Robson and an attempt was made to burn down a community hall at nearby Brilliant. Both owners were Doukhobors.

It was the first outbreak of Doukhobor violence in two months.

C.B.C. Seeks All Outlets For Television

MONTREAL, May 17 (CP). — The board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation announced today it will follow a policy of "not granting permission for individual private Canadian television stations to become outlets for non-Canadian systems."

A prepared statement by the board said that in making recommendations regarding applications for licences for private television broadcasting stations it will recommend that "the channels necessary be reserved for the national system"—the C.B.C.

The statement said a licence fee should be instituted for television receiving sets and this fee "must be considerably higher than the present fee for sound receiving sets because of the higher costs of television and television programming."

Member Asks Coast Guard

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—J. L. Gibson (Ind., Comox-Alberni) said tonight he had been "terribly ashamed" at times when the United States Coast Guard had to be called in to handle some marine emergency in Canadian waters.

Speaking on Transport Department estimates, he urged establishment of a Canadian coast guard. Mr. Gibson said men who manned life-saving equipment on the Pacific Coast must be "overcome with a sense of futility."

Four-Ringed Battle Rages in Jerusalem

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, May 17 (Reuters).—More than 1,000 Jews are cut off and surrounded by 15,000 Arabs inside the old walled city of Jerusalem, it was reliably reported here tonight.

The Jews are said to include Hagana, Irgun and Stern Gang men.

They are said to be trying to surrender to the regular troops of the Arab Legion but the Legion has not yet reached the outer Jerusalem area, mostly controlled by the Jews.

The position appears to be that the Jews within the old walled city are surrounded by Arab guerrillas who in turn are surrounded by Jews, who in turn are surrounded by Arabs on the outskirts.

The city is said to be suffering a severe water shortage, following the destruction of the water mains.

JERUSALEM, May 17 (AP).—Arab artillery shells fell in the heart of Jerusalem Sunday, it was learned today. Jerusalem now is virtually all in the hands of the army of Israel after some 51 hours of furious street fighting.

Lashing out with machine guns and mortars within seconds after the British Government and army evacuated the city Friday morning, Jewish forces swiftly overran British-evacuated positions and started knifing toward Arab territory.

The first efforts of Israel's fighters were twofold: To blockade the city against possible invasion from the Arab states; and to isolate the old walled city, Arab guerrilla headquarters and the most hallowed square mile in all Christendom.

CAIRO, May 17 (AP).—Arab dispatches said today that Arab armies have penetrated Northeastern Palestine in an operation which could determine the control of that fertile region. The area now is claimed by the new Jewish State of Israel.

ADVANCE IN SOUTH

The penetration coincides with an advance the Arab Higher Executive Office said the Egyptian army has made in the south to within 30 miles of Tel Aviv, the temporary capital of Israel.

(Of the two operations the one in the northeast in the vicinity of the Sea of Galilee appears to be the more significant. It is taking place in Jewish-claimed territory near the borders of Syria, Lebanon and Trans-Jordan).

A Damascus dispatch quoted military sources there as saying that Arab forces "are pouring" across Jordan River bridgeheads into Northeastern Palestine.

Syrian and Iraqi columns, the informant said, are deploying for possible advances up the western shore of the Sea of Galilee and westward through the strategically important Beisan Valley.

The Arab Higher Executive Committee, quoting a communique from the Middle East broadcasting station, said Syrian and Iraqui troops have joined forces in the Samakh area at the southern tip of Galilee.

Released Dam Claims Toll Of 500 Arabs

TEL AVIV, Palestine, May 17 (AP).—A Jewish source in Haifa said tonight that up to 500 Arab soldiers were drowned when the Jews opened a hydro-electric dam and flooded a plain south of the Sea of Galilee.

The source said Arab troops with tanks and heavy equipment were trapped in a rush of swirling water unleashed from a dam near Deganya on the southern tip of the Biblical Sea.

Some of the Arab tanks were mired in the muddy torrents, the source said. The waters were reported to have swept over a plain which lies below sea level in the Jordan Valley along the Palestine-Trans-Jordan frontier.

Hagana fighters drove into Acre today, the old Arab seaport city 12 miles north of Haifa. Their commander said an estimated 4,000 Arabs were penned in the ancient walled area.

The commander said his forces were in complete control of the highway through the city—a key to Jewish communication by road to northern settlements.

BULLETINS

Men Missing

KEARNY, N.J., May 17 (CP).—Several small tanks, said to contain 30,000 gallons of pitchblende, exploded tonight at the Kopper Company's tar and chemical plant, and a night superintendent said at least three men are missing.

The series of explosions set off a fire in the plant's two-story brick building.

Crash Injures 31

MONTREAL, May 17 (CP).—Thirty-one persons were taken to hospital tonight when a westbound street car left the tracks on downtown St. Catherine Street and ploughed into an eastbound car at the corner of St. Denis Street.

The injured included 17 men, among them the motorman, 13 women and one child. All but the motorman and one unidentified woman were released from hospital.

Mobile Rooms To Aid Schools

"Portable" classroom units that can be moved easily to schools where more accommodation is needed will be built by the Greater Victoria School Board.

The board was told last night that three are planned, with plans set to start building the first emergency unit at Willows School.

Stalin Approves Wallace Plan For Peace Talk

Soviet Leader Calls "Open Letter" "Fruitful Basis for Agreement"

LONDON, May 17 (AP).—Prime Minister Stalin said tonight Russia is ready, if the United States is willing, to negotiate the differences between the two countries on the basis of recent proposals to him by Henry A. Wallace

Stalin was replying to Wallace's "open letter" which the third party candidate for president of the United States addressed to the Russian Prime Minister at a May 11 political rally in New York. Stalin's answer was broadcast by the Moscow radio and distributed here by the Soviet monitor.

"I do not know whether the United States Government approves of Mr. Wallace's program as a basis for agreement between the U.S.S.R. and the United States," Stalin said.

"As far as the Government of the U.S.S.R. is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program could serve as good and fruitful basis for such an agreement and for the development of international co-operation."

(In the speech Wallace urged immediate action by the United States and Russia to end the "cold war" and ensure a "century of peace.")

Stalin said the Soviet Government considered the "co-existence" of the United States and Russian systems as both possible and necessary, "despite the difference in the economic systems and ideologies."

"It is possible to agree or to disagree with the program of Mr. Wallace," Stalin said, "but one thing is, nevertheless, beyond doubt. There is no statesman for peace and co-operation among the peoples who can ignore this problem, since it reflects the hopes and striving of the peoples towards consolidation of peace, and it doubtless will have the support of millions of ordinary people."

Stalin derided the "inadequacy" of the recent diplomatic exchange between the two governments. On May 4, Walter B. Smith, United States ambassador in Moscow, conferred with Foreign Minister Molotov. Molotov replied May 9 that the Soviet Union was "in agreement" with an American proposal for "discussion and settlement" of mutual differences.

United States Government sources said later, however, that Smith had not issued an invitation to Russia for bi-lateral talks.

Russia Joins in Demand To Halt Palestine Fight

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 17 (CP).—Russia followed the United States in demanding today that the United Nations Security Council order a cease-fire in Palestine.

The United States took the surprise initiative when United States Delegate Warren R. Austin presented a draft resolution which would put the council on record as recognizing that the situation in Palestine "constitutes a threat to the peace and a breach of the peace."

Stronger than previous council cease-fire and truce orders, which were ignored, the proposed resolution would invoke Article 39 of the United Nations Charter, which would open the way towards use of economic sanctions or actual United Nations military force to stop the fighting between Arabs and Jews.

The Russian-American agreement brought them back to the same position they held on Palestine last November 29, when both supported the United Nations decision to divide Palestine into Arab and Jewish states.

The United States resolution would order all military forces in the Holy Land to stand fast within 36 hours after adoption of the proposal, discussion of which was sidetracked when the council became involved in a procedural debate.

The 11-member council finally decided to postpone until Tuesday a vote on whether to send to Arabs and Jews a series of questions, also proposed by the United States.

The questions concern political and military positions of the antagonists.

Most delegates asked for time to study and receive instructions from their Governments.

New State Recognized By Russia

MOSCOW, May 17 (AP).—The Soviet Government announced tonight its official recognition of the new Jewish State of Israel.

Recognition of the new state set up in Palestine Saturday was accorded at the request of Moshe Shertok, Foreign Minister of Israel.

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia replied in a note to Shertok that "The Government of the U.S.S.R. has decided to recognize officially the State of Israel and its Provisional Government."

(President Truman proclaimed last Friday the United States' recognition of Israel. Guatemala also has recognized Israel.

(Political circles in London, where the texts of Shertok's and Molotov's notes were received in a broadcast of the Moscow radio, said the Russian recognition appeared to be broader in scope than the United States'.)

B.C. Gains Little by New Plan

Announcement of the Federal program of health grants is again bringing up the question in some Government sources as to just what benefit is being received by British Columbia from its tax agreement with the Dominion.

Ontario and Quebec, two of Canada's richest Provinces, have not given up any of their taxes to the Federal Government, but according to Prime Minister King they will receive exactly the same benefits as the seven other Provinces.

British Columbia is worse off than most other Provinces. As a result of its tax agreement with Ottawa it has given up revenues exceeding $144,000,000 annually and is receiving in return something over $21,000,000. Yet British Columbia is offered the same terms in the Dominion health scheme as the two Provinces which rejected the tax deal.

In the face of this, the Federal aid plan does not look as generous as it first seemed. It adds up to $150,000,000 over the whole of Canada for the next five years, or slightly more than was collected from British Columbia in income and corporation taxes last year.

NO RECOGNITION

No recognition has been given to the fact that British Columbia has embarked on its own hospital insurance scheme. A Federal health insurance scheme was supposed to follow the tax agreements between the Dominion and the Province, but British Columbia is receiving no extra aid for starting out on its own.

It has been roughly estimated that British Columbia may receive $1,500,000 aside from grants for hospitals. Government sources have already intimated that aid for hospital construction, greatest need if the hospital insurance plan is to be a success, is not what was expected.

The Dominion plans to make grants of $1,000 per bed for chronic and $1,500 for acute hospitals, provided the plans meet with Federal Government approval.

The further provision limiting Federal aid to not more than one-third of the total cost of any such building is regarded as unnecessary in view of the fact that construction costs are now running from $6,000 to $10,000 a bed.

Although Premier Byron Johnson greeted the Dominion scheme as "wonderful," it is expected he will have some pointed questions to ask when he visits Ottawa.

Among them may be the question of how British Columbia gains by giving up $144,000,000 in return for $21,000,000.

Workers Battle to Stem Oil Flow

Photo shows oil spurting from the ground at the wild Leduc well, Atlantic No. 3, near Edmonton, Alta. An estimated 2,000 to 10,000 barrels of oil a day is escaping from craters near the well. The province has closed all wells in the area to leave the pipeline free to carry away oil pumped from the lake at the well. Lake of oil accumulated as result of breakaway is estimated at 50,000 barrels.

Government Order Ends Potato Famine in City

A "potato famine" week which saw prices at a two-year high and quality near an all-time low ended today for Victoria with simultaneous restoration of potato import quotas and price ceilings.

Four carloads of United States potatoes arrived in the city yesterday, and wholesalers said more would continue to arrive all this week and beyond.

"The potato shortage is over," one wholesaler said.

Shortages have been developing gradually over the past six weeks, since Canada's curtailed imports program left fruit and vegetable wholesalers with such short import quotas that they had no American funds to spare for potatoes.

It reached its climax last week, when potatoes were so scarce that Prince Edward Island seed potatoes were being sold for the table, and wholesale prices reached $6.75 a hundredweight, highest since a previous shortage two years ago.

Authorization to import new potatoes, limited to U.S. Number 1, "B" size, applies only to British Columbia, where domestic supplies of old potatoes are almost exhausted.

At the same time as quotas were reintroduced, Prices Board reimposed controls on markup, or margin of profit, according to an Ottawa report from The Canadian Press.

Maximum markup of 40 cents per 100-pound bag is allowed at the retail level. Wholesale markup figures are 30 cents a 100 pounds.

Retail controls were effective yesterday. They had the effect of reducing retail profit to one cent per pound. Old-stock potatoes which had been selling in Victoria at prices around 70 cents for a ten-pound bag fell yesterday to the maximum retail price of 40 cents, although some retailers, presumably those who had not been notified of the order, were still selling at prices near 70 cents.

Today, with new stock coming on the market under wholesale as well as retail ceilings, potatoes will sell at a maximum price of 42½ cents per ten-pound bag.

State Police Battle Strikers

Major violence broke out yesterday in auto workers' strike in Michigan which threatens to involve 300,000 employees. State Governor Kim Sigler ordered out state police to cope with trouble in picket lines at Highland Park, Detroit suburb. Shown above are pickets taking placards from union headquarters on way to lines before flare-up.

Commission Calls Off Struggle For Atomic Control Agreement

LAKE SUCCESS, May 17 (CP).—The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission decided today to end its two-year effort to agree on world atomic control. The vote was 9 to 2.

Russia and the Soviet Ukraine voted against the suspension, which was proposed originally by the United States, Britain and France.

The move came after the western powers concluded it was useless to continue the talks any longer in view of the deadlock between Russia and the commission majority.

Andrei Gromyko, Soviety deputy foreign minister, told the 11-member U.N. Atomic Energy Commission he did not agree that further efforts were useless.

"The Soviet Union Government stood, stands and will continue to stand for an effective international system of inspection and an effective international system of control," Gromyko said.

He told the commission Russia had no intention of supporting the United States control plan and would continue to press for adoption of the Soviet plan. Six members of the commission have declared themselves in favor of suspending the talks.

"Agreement is possible," Gromyko said, "but not under the United States plan . . . the United States Government does not want control of atomic energy."

Gromyko, in attacking the United States, made these observations:

1. "We see unwillingness on the part of the United States Government to prohibit atomic weapons, which is the first task to be implemented [illegible]

2. "We see unwillingness on the part of the United States to agree to simultaneous control on fuel and installations."

3. "We see unwillingness by the United States Government to use nuclear fuel for peaceful purposes."

Ottawa Considering Freight Rate Issue

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—Transport Minister Chevrier told the Commons tonight the Government still has under "active and careful" consideration the representations of seven Provinces over the 21 per cent freight rate increase.

For the moment, he told D. King Hazen (P.C., St. John-Albert), he could make no statement on the matter.

The Premiers of all Provinces except Québec and Ontario met the Cabinet several weeks ago and asked for the appointment of a Royal Commission on the freight rate issue.

Recognition of Israel by Britain Awaits Outline of Exact Frontier

LONDON, May 17 (Reuters).—A Foreign Office spokesman today said there is no possibility that the Government will recognize the new Jewish State of Israel immediately.

The spokesman said recognition would not come as long as the military situation was as fluid as at present. He denied any request for recognition had been received from Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok of Israel.

"In considering the matter," he said, Britain will apply the usual standards of international law, which require from the state applying for recognition on the establishment of a functioning administration, a statement on the precise frontiers of the new state, and the acceptance of normal international obligations."

He indicated that, in the British view, Israel has not so far fulfilled these conditions. The Dominions were being informed of this attitude, he said.

The spokesman also denied reports that Britain was contemplating the appointment of political agents in Tel Aviv and Haifa.

A usually well-informed source indicated Britain's diplomatic interest in Palestine is concentrated on reintroducing a truce in Jerusalem. Britain is likely soon to submit new proposals to this end to the United Nations Security Council at Lake Success.

Political quarters here believe the prospects of the survival of the three-day-old Jewish state depend on two factors—the Arab drive on Tel Aviv and the possibility that the United States will lift the embargo on arms to the Middle East.

Official British spokesmen denied that the Government had been consulted by the United States on the arms question, but they admitted the "such a vital matter could hardly fail to have been raised informally."

The matter has no direct bearing on British policy.

Some competent observers suggest that events in Palestine are moving so swiftly that the ban could not be effectively lifted in time to influence the outcome of the campaign. Others believe [illegible] may already have been made to lift it and see in this an explanation of Moshe Shertok's cryptic statement that the Jews may shortly be in a position to fight in the air.

Northern Manitoba Farmlands Given Hope Floods' Peak Past

WINNIPEG, May 17 (CP).—Possibility that the unequalled Spring floods which have forced evacuation of farms in The Pas area of northern Manitoba have reached their peak was seen today when the Saskatchewan River level remained unchanged. The Pas is 450 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

For the first time in three days the river had not shown a rise, but preparations were going ahead to receive 135 evacuated farm families at The Pas. All hope for crops in the district has been given up and the farmers are preparing to take seasonal work at The Pas.

Hope that the worst of the flood may be over lay in a report that the Carrot River had dropped four inches.

In southern Manitoba the towns of Marquette and Meadows, 35 miles west of Winnipeg, were in danger of flooding following a serious break in an earth dam holding back the swollen Assiniboine River.

No. 1 Highway west from Winnipeg is still closed but some traffic is getting through on No. 2—a gravel and mud road. It is not known when repairs to No. 1 will be made.

Flood conditions were reported brighter in British Columbia with cooler weather prevailing in the danger areas. The Fraser River, running through rich valley fruitland, rose 1.28 feet during the week-end but still is far from the danger stage. At Cache Creek, 150 miles northeast of Vancouver, flood waters on low-lying farm lands receded and farmers are preparing to start working the land.

Cancer Victim Dies on Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 (CP).—Mrs. Rose Otto, 42-year-old cancer victim, who has relatives in Saanich, died last night at Hula, New Guinea, it was learned here today.

Mrs. Otto was en route home by plane from Sydney, Australia, where she had been treated by John Braund, 79-year-old layman who claimed he had a cure for cancer.

She was one of eight Canadian cancer sufferers who made the 8,000-mile flight to Australia in search of a cure.

Mrs. Otto's body will arrive here Wednesday by air, and will be sent by train to her home.

Following treatment by Braund, she developed blood poisoning and for some weeks was near death in a Sydney hospital. Braund later was branded a "fake."

On the homeward flight she was accompanied by a nurse, supplied by a wealthy Australian who had assumed all hospital and medical expenses for the Victoria woman.

Gains Scored For Control Of Leduc Well

EDMONTON, May 17 (CP).—Officials said today "satisfactory progress" was being made in containing the rampaging Atlantic Well No. 3 in the nearby Leduc field, but to a far-from-expert eyewitness the pock-marked area looked about the same as last week.

F. J. Moroney, appointed by the province's Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board during the week-end to head the operation, and gusher expert Myron Kinley of Houston, Texas, said work to reduce the fire hazard was going as planned. Drilling that might save the well was expected to begin momentarily.

Great sloughs of bubbling oil, more than 80,000 barrels of it, seem neither higher nor lower than they did Friday. Cratering seems as active in a 200-foot diameter about the well and oil pushes through the soil in ten of the surrounding acres with vigor varying from a seep to a spray.

It is the bubbling sea of green-black oil diked above ground that constitutes the fire hazard, causing the area's restriction to workers and a few Government-accredited visitors.

Extensive equipment moved to the site during the last few days holds the secret of whether the well may be salvaged.

A "bridge" of shale down the well hole is held responsible for the oil's insistence on finding alternative outlets, leading to cratering and seeping. The equipment is to try to knock out the bridge and restore the normal channel.

Paris Crowds Cheer Couple

PARIS, May 17 (Reuters).—Crowds broke through the police lines when Princess Elizabeth's car approached the British Embassy gateway this evening and cheering Parisians swarmed round the car for some minutes.

Police, after much blowing of whistles and pushing, succeeded in driving the crowd back on the pavement and making a way for the car to drive into the embassy.

Thousands of Parisians shouting "Come back soon" crowded the Place de l'Opera tonight to catch a last glimpse of the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh, who will fly back to London tomorrow.

Retrial Starts For Henderson

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—William R. Henderson, 18-year-old Vancouver youth reprieved four times since August 27, 1947, when he was sentenced to hang, today when on trial once more for his life.

He is charged with the murder of a police officer during the False Creek gun battle here, following a frustrated bank holdup February 26, 1947. On appeal, he was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court of Canada.

In the gun battle, two policemen and a gunman were killed and a detective wounded. Harry Medos, one of the gunmen, was captured, and he died on the scaffold October 1, 1947.

Speed Trial Fund Reaches Objective

KELOWNA, B.C., May 17 (CP).—Officials of the Board of Trade here report $25,000 required to bring Sir Malcolm Campbell here for an attempt at a new world speedboat record has been promised by donors.

"The objective is reached, provided all promises are met," said Terry Greenwood, board president.

U.S. Reports Tests Succeed

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP).—The United States Government today announced completely successful tests of three improved atomic weapons, in what was described as a "milestone in atomic development."

Secrecy cloaked all details of what may well be tremendous developments beyond the A-bomb which wrote new history in the horrors of war by wrecking Hiroshima August 6, 1945.

Today's report came from the White House after Chairman David E. Lilienthal and four other members of the Atomic Energy Commission gave President Truman an oral report on the recent tests. They were held at Eniwetok Island, Far Pacific atoll which is the proving ground for American atomic scientists.

The report came as the commission became more deeply tangled in political and labor troubles.

The Republican-dominated Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy approved 11 to 5 a bill to extend the terms of the five commissioners a flat 23 months. Truman has renominated Lilienthal a five-year term and the others to staggered terms of one to four years.

On the labor front, a deadlock continued in efforts to eliminate the danger of strikes in atomic plants. Commission officials said they have been unable to get unions and operating companies to agree on a program they said is essential to continuous operation.

Police Called Into Fight On Picket Line

DETROIT, May 17 (AP).—Special squads of state police were rushed into suburban Highland Park today to cope with an outbreak of picket line violence around one of 16 strike-bound Chrysler Corporation plants.

They were dispatched into the Detroit area by Governor Kim Sigler at the request of Highland Park Mayor Norman Patterson.

Patterson said local police were unable to quell a disturbance started by United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) "goon squads." Two policemen were reported sent to hospital by the outbreak of fist fighting and rock throwing.

Sigler also disclosed he was preparing to alert the National Guard if necessary.

This first major violence in the six-day-old Chrysler strike came as the auto union threatened to call a strike of 225,000 General Motors workers and received an unexpected plea from the Ford Motor Company to cut wages.

T. A. Johnstone, acting director of the U.A.W.'s General Motors Department, said there is "a very good possibility" of a walkout in 90 General Motors plants May 28 if no settlement is reached by then.

"Our people probably aren't going to work if there's no contract," he added.

The current U.A.W.-G.M. contract, extended 30 days, expires May 28. Nearly half of the General Motors union locals already have approved a strike, Johnstone said.

A walkout at General Motors would boost the auto industry's strike total to 300,000. Some observers believe the union would be reluctant to strike two of the country's "big three" companies at the same time. Ford's proposal met a crisp C.I.O. rejection.

Chrysler, meanwhile, accused pickets of forcibly preventing white collar workers from entering some of its 16 strike-bound plants.

Asserts B.C. Victim Of Injustice

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—John G. Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre, Sask., tonight fired the opening salvo for his party in the Vancouver Centre Federal by-election campaign charging "British Columbia is the victim of regional injustice."

In a campaign speech in support of Lyle Jestley, barrister and Progressive Conservative candidate for the seat, Mr. Diefenbaker said the recent freight-rate increase has proved 20 per cent more costly for British Columbia producers than for those in other provinces. Ottawa's referral of this inequality to the Board of Transport Commissioners was "futile" in view of the fact that the question had been subject to their scrutiny for the last two years.

"The Dominion is giving British Columbia the runaround," he said.

Derailed Train Halts Traffic

REVELSTOKE, B.C., May 17 (CP).—Traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway's main line was disrupted for at least 12 hours today when a stock train was derailed by a collapsed culvert at Twin Butte, 12 miles east of here. No one was injured.

Communism Issue Splits U.S. Leaders

PORTLAND, Ore., May 17 (AP).—Republican presidential aspirants Thomas A. Dewey and Harold Stassen took sharp issue tonight on whether the Mundt Bill would outlaw the Communist Party.

Dewey, a foe of legislation to outlaw Communist organizations, claimed the bill would not make the Communist Party illegal.

The bill is now before Congress.

Stassen avowed his support of the bill and said it would "outlaw the Communist Party."

He qualified his stand for the legislation by saying that certain provisions go "beyond what I have advocated."

The two contenders for the Republican presidential nomination debated their stands on Communism over a coast-to-coast radio hookup.

Dewey quoted from the report of the House un-American activities committee in purported refutation of Stassen's claim.

"We must keep the Communists in the open, so that we can defeat them and what they stand for," Dewey said.

Stassen's view was that the Communists used the "blessings of legality" to gain power in other countries. He said outlawing Communists would not endanger civil liberties of other persons.

MONTREAL, May 17 (CP).—Canada got her last ship out of the Palestine fighting zone during the week-end when the Montreal freighter Seaside sailed from Jaffa, it was learned today.

Winnipeg Flyer Dies in Crash

WINNIPEG, May 17 (CP).—Kenneth Johannessen, 26, crashed to his death in the Assiniboine River here tonight after a display of aerobatics witnessed by his parents and young wife.

We was flying a monoplane owned by the Winnipeg Flying Club, and took off from the club's field not long before the crash occurred.

Witnesses said he flew at low altitude over the city's southwestern section, attracting the attention of hundreds of citizens, before the aircraft struck the water with its wheels, then sank.

Final Plans Being Arranged For Gala May 24th Events

Victoria Day celebrations committeemen are polishing final plans for four days of merrymaking, May 21 - 24.

Beautiful 15-year-old Stephanie Jones, Oak Bay High School student, with five princesses and ladies-in-waiting, will give her royal blessing to a program which begins with coronation, Friday, May 21, and ends with a Beacon Hill fireworks display Monday, May 24.

Regatta, May Queen Ball, R.C.N. Sunset Ceremony, gymkhana, motorcycle rodeo, swimming gala, street dancing and mammoth parades will be included in the line-up of events honoring the city's late regal namesake.

American destroyer-minesweeper U.S.S. Carmack, with its crew of 200 officers and men, will represent the United States Navy at the festivities. A marching unit from the ship will lead the colorful parade, for which 59 entries have been received.

Entry deadline is Thursday.

Old Victoria carriages will be decked with flowers to carry the May Queen and her court in the May Queen parade to the crowning ceremony at the Parliament Buildings May 21. An R.C.N. sunset ceremony will follow the crowning.

A Saturday afternoon feature will be an Eagles' parade in which local groups and 32 units from the United States will march. Eagles will also take part in a giant Eagle-Lion pageant.

The May Queen Ball will be held in Bay Street Armoury Saturday evening. The court will not dance, but the Queen will dance once, with the highest dignitary present.

Costumes will be essential to provide an atmosphere of Mardi Gras gaiety for street dancing Friday, Saturday and Monday, committeemen declare. Two orchestras will play for old-time and modern dancing. Prizes totaling $85 will go to wearers of the three best costumes.

Bands of roving minstrels will travel from crowd to crowd in the city, playing and singing for anyone who wants to listen.

Advance sale of membership certificates provides the only means of admission to the many special events.

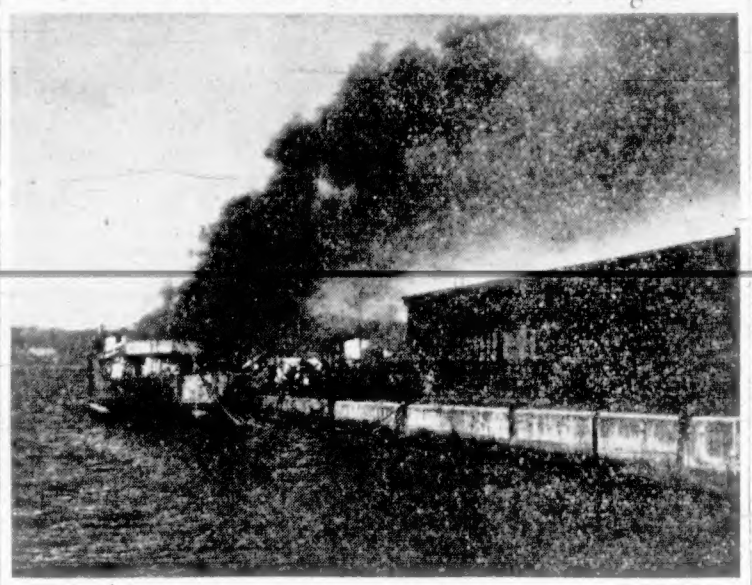
More Smoke Than Fire Aboard Former Frigate



Colonist Photo

Little damage was caused on former frigate H.M.C.S. Levis yesterday morning when fire broke out in her oil-filled bilges. Vessel was tied up at Ogden Point docks and was in process of being dismantled. Firemen fought blaze for two hours. Fire Chief Robert Brindle said he believed blaze started from spark from cutting torch being used by workmen. Squad of firemen under Deputy Chief Phillip Guy fought fire aboard vessel. Frigate was one of many former naval craft sold for scrapping. She was commissioned following Mediterranean sinking of corvette Levis in 1943.

Broadway Cast Does Full Justice To Sparkling Oscar Wilde Comedy

That the sparkling epigrammatic wit of an Oscar Wilde comedy is as fresh and amusing to a present-day audience as it was to those in London many years ago, was shown by the spontaneous laughter with which a capacity audience responded last night to the performance of "Lady Windermere's Fan," at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

With Cornelia Otis Skinner as the notorious Mrs. Erlynne and Judith Fellows as her daughter, Lady Windermere, the play was brilliantly done.

Miss Skinner has a slightly husky voice of appealing quality, and her scene with Lady Windermere when she bids her a final farewell was an example on near-perfection in change of mood and facial expression. The contrast between her gentleness with the young and idealistic girl-wife, and her flippant "Manners before morals, Lord Windermere" was excellent.

Judith Fellows as Lady Windermere was not always completely audible, particularly in the first act, owing to a trick of dropping her voice at the end of a sentence. This was not so noticeable late in the play, and her scene with Mrs. Erlynne in Lord Darlington's rooms was crisp and convincing, well pointed and timed. The final scene with her husband was particularly pleasing.

Estelle Winwood, as the Duchess of Berwick, in a hat that had to be seen to be believed, was very fine. As one witty remark after another came into her conversation, the clever way in which she picked up the lines without anything being lost was especially good.

DAUGHTER DEMURE

As Lady Agatha Carlyle, the demure young daughter of the Duchess, Suzette Meredith made her one speech, "Yes, Mamma," carry a world of meaning. Her eyes, lovely hands and wrists, and a trick of tilting her head, spoke for her, in a language no one could mistake.

Rex Evans as the elderly playboy, Lord Augustus Lorton, was outstanding. His diction is especially clear, and even with the poor acoustics of the theatre every subtle shading of color in his deep voice was heard to perfection. His facial expression when Mrs. Erlynne appears from the other room of Lord Darlington's suite, claiming Lady Windermere's fan as one she has picked up by mistake, was one of the funniest of the whole evening.

ACTOR WOODEN

David Manners as Lord Windermere was rather wooden at times, particularly in his first scene with his wife, but the final scene and the one where the fan is discovered, were much more convincing. Bramwell Fletcher as Lord Darlington, the reformed man-about-town in love with Lady Windermere, was capable, particularly in the more serious moments.

The sets were elaborate as befits the period, and were most effective. The effect of a long hall, seen through the double doors at the back of the drawing-room, was particularly convincing. The colors were lovely, and the costuming, particulary in the ballroom scene of Act II, called forth round after round of applause. The whole production was a rare treat from beginning to end. It is being repeated tonight at 8:15.

Rank Eyeing B.C. Coast For British Movie Site

The J. Arthur Rank organization is eyeing coastal British Columbia as a film-producing area, but Britain's dollar shortage blocks immediate plans.

Hon. J. Earl Lawson, K.C., president and general manager of Odeon Theatres of Canada, Ltd., said here last night that either Victoria or Vancouver may be considered as a studio site as soon as Britain's exchange position eases.

It is almost certain that a producing unit will be located on the West Coast eventually, he said.

"It is one of J. Arthur Rank's objectives to make films in every part of the British Empire and distribute them throughout the British Empire so as to interpret the lives, habits and peoples of every part of the British Empire to each other, and to the United Kingdom."

Two Australian films have been produced and two more are under production. One is being produced in South Africa and plans are being laid for production in South Africa.

Another Rank objective, Mr. Lawson said, is to develop children's movie clubs throughout the Empire and to produce special children's films. One such film, "The Boy Who Stopped Niagara Falls," has already been produced in the Rank Toronto Studios under sponsorship of National Film Board.

MADE DOWN UNDER

A second, "Bush Christmas," was produced in Australia. Featuring Australian child actors, it tells the story of the capture of cattle rustlers in the wilderness by a group of enterprising youngsters.

"Bush Christmas" has made a hit with adults, too, and may be placed on the adult entertainment circuit as well as film clubs.

"You have to be more careful in technical direction for a children's film than for an adult entertainment film," Mr. Lawson says. Keen-eyed youngsters soon spot minor mistakes. After viewing one recent film which included a swimming sequence, hundreds of youngsters wrote to point out that two lengths of a 20-yard pool definitely did not make 100 yards.

Movie clubs elect their own officers and offer frank criticism of films, he said. Most popular films feature sports, competition, and children using their ingenuity to get out of a difficult situation.

MORE POPULAR

British films are increasing tremendously in popularity, Mr. Lawson remarked. Receipts for 1947 were triple those for 1946. Quality and quantity remain high.

"The great difference between British films and Hollywood films as I see it are twofold: First, the British are interested in keeping realism in their films, rather than glamorizing situations so that they are obviously untrue; and second, small-part actors play as perfectly as the stars."

Odeon's four-year plan to build 64 theatres throughout Canada is behind schedule for various reasons, Mr. Lawson said. Twelve new theatres have been completed across Canada, including the new Odeon in Victoria, and 10 more under construction are slated for completion in 1948.

All new theatres, including the Odeon here, are wired for television. Public "Video" will come into operation, if Government regulations allow, as soon as improved techniques allow showing on a full-sized screen. At present a two by four-foot screen is about the limit for clarity.

Mr. Lawson, former Minister of National Revenue under the Bennett Government, is now on a Western tour of Odeon theatres. With him is Mrs. Lawson, J. H. Boothe, divisional manager for British Columbia; E. K. Hayter, assistant to Mr. Boothe, and Guy Upjohn, buyer and booker for Western Canada.

The party leaves today for Vancouver. They have been staying at the Empress Hotel.

Chief Queries Officials On Proposals

Fire Chief E. G. Clayards of Oak Bay has written the provincial fire marshal's office in Vancouver asking whether the deputy fire marshal's recommendations for installation of a sprinkler system in the Willows fair ground buildings included the grandstand.

The chief said the report recommended that all buildings on the fair grounds should have a sprinkler system.

"I have queried the fire marshal on this point," stated Chief Clayards, "and I want to know if the recommendation included the grandstand."

Chief Clayards recently said the deputy fire marshal's recommendations would have to be fully carried out before the public would be allowed to enter the buildings.

Meanwhile, the B.C. Agricultural Association is waiting for the Oak Bay Council to consider its application for a $10,000 building permit for alterations and repairs to the fair buildings.

The council has had the application in for several weeks, but to date has made no decision although the issue has appeared on its agenda. The matter is always discussed in committee at council meetings.

Association officials recently stated that installation of a sprinkler system would cost about $35,000, which they considered out of the question.

W. R. Bone, regional director of Family Allowances for British Columbia, recently left Victoria for Ottawa to attend a conference of regional directors. He will return early next week.

Expensive Collection

While the general public in British Columbia is waiting to see where the new provincial sales tax will fall, it is becoming clearer each day that its collection will be both cumbersome and costly. It is being argued currently that from 150 to 200 additional civil servants will be needed to handle the bookkeeping, with this implied addition of from $250,000 to $350,000 to civil pay lists annually. Also, this fresh accession of civil servants will help to overtax existing provincial buildings, and so precipitate new construction on a costly plane.

What actual help British Columbia municipalities will get from the levy after this expensive administration has been created and the Province has taken two-thirds of the net proceeds remains to be seen. It is obvious now that the new tax cannot be made operative as early as the Government indicated was intended, and that municipalities which budgeted on their expectations in the matter may have to revise their views drastically.

Outside of some stated exemptions in the statute, the new tax has yet to be written in detail. This will be done by order in council, and until that is done no one will know where the new impost will apply. The Victoria Public Library, for instance, has already been advised that it will have to pay the tax on books bought for public circulation here; at which point the Province is definitely not helping this city. Mounting anomalies have been pointed out, but until the law is drafted in final form the composite result will be guesswork.

What is certain is that the taxpayers, as consumers or otherwise, will be billed for upwards of $12,000,000 yearly that they did not have to find before; with the indefinite assurance that the Dominion "may reduce" its own sales tax in the coming Federal budget. As the provincial levy will be far wider and more general than the Federal one was, that is cold comfort. Moreover, as pointed out in the House at the time, the sales tax will be collected chiefly within British Columbia municipalities, which ostensibly it was designed to help.

Captain Vancouver

Today at Petersham, Surrey, visiting and resident Canadians in the United Kingdom will take part in ceremonies observing the 150th anniversary of the death of Captain George Vancouver, whose five years of exploration in the Pacific, under Captain James Cook and alone, added so much useful knowledge to the then known state of the world.

Sailing on the second and third Cook voyages under a more famous master, Captain George Vancouver was later given the command of an expedition to explore the northwest coast of America, take over from the Spaniards who had seized it, and to investigate the Strait of Juan de Fuca. That led to his circumnavigation of what is known as Vancouver Island today.

His grave at Petersham is decorated yearly by Mr. W. A. McAdam, British Columbia Agent-General at London, and this year a special ceremony will mark the 150th anniversary in fitting manner.

Looking for Lead

In the matter of recognition of the new Israel state there may be good reason for Canada to await United Kingdom action before making up its own mind, but this practice of following in the footsteps of others suggests a habit which might well have been discarded long ago. The Dominion is not in swaddling clothes. It has grown to a maturity which should enable it to make its own decisions. There should be no need for it to ape the echo.

The swift recognition accorded the new Zionist state by the United States—rather surprising in view of that country's reversion of the Palestine partition plan once adopted by the United Nations and now put into effect unilaterally by Jewish declaration of independence—has set a precedent which is likely to be followed by other nations. That this condones what in essence is a defiance of the United Nations may or may not matter. The state of Israel has been set up much as some others have been in the course of history, and it obviously has come to stay.

Since Canada was a strong supporter of the partition plan it might have been thought independent decision by Ottawa on the question of recognition of Israel would be automatic. Apart altogether from this particular instance, however, the Dominion exhibits far too timid an approach when it is called upon to make up its mind. It seems always to be looking around to see what some other country is doing before any action is taken. It is high time Canada acted the part of an adult; its adolescent days are over.

Company Unions

Church leaders are treading on delicate ground when they start taking sides in matters affecting labor relations. In Victoria last week the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada passed a resolution recording its belief "that labor ought to be able to organize freely for ends mutually beneficial to labor and society," and that "legislation on industrial relations ought to apply equally to both parties." Specifically, it registered opposition to company unions as giving inadequate security to labor.

What prompted such a resolution? Was the conference given any reason to believe that labor is not getting a square deal in British Columbia, and, if so, by whom? Company unions have been a bone of contention for many years, but during debates in the Legislature no concrete evidence has been adduced of sufficient weight to warrant their being outlawed.

The United Church is a powerful and beneficial influence in communal life. That it should take an interest in labor affairs and encourage their study in church colleges is commendable. Nevertheless, it should think carefully before committing itself on broad lines on so vexed a question. By doing so, it runs the risk of losing some of its hard-won influence and laying itself open to accusations of meddling in matters not within its purview.

More Fireworks

United States diplomats are reported to have been thrown into a flutter by the desertion of an army sergeant on the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow. He has reversed the procedure of Igor Gouzenko of Canadian espionage fame who left a Soviet Embassy to serve Western democracy, by apparently going over to Russia. The similarity ends there, however. Gouzenko was moved by a growing disgust of Communism; the American sergeant is alleged to have been fascinated by an attractive feminine Soviet agent.

One supposes that if the sergeant took with him secret files from the American Embassy, as is feared and as Gouzenko did from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, it will be a different type of information that he hands over to the agents of his new allegiance. The United States does not direct a network of Russian "cells" designed to overthrow the Stalin regime. Such files as he may have taken, of course, may easily be of a nature to cause embarrassment and annoyance to the country seemingly he has rejected.

The Kremlin can be trusted to take full advantage of whatever its new convert brings to it, real or manufactured. The Soviet state seldom passes up any opportunity to accuse the Western nations of duplicity, and frequently requires no opportunity at all in order to do so. One other thing seems apparent. Beautiful feminine spies did not die with E. Phillips Oppenheim.

Mons Remembers

The Legionary tells the story of Mons souvenir medallions which have arrived in Canada for distribution to former soldiers who took part in the liberation of that Belgian city thirty years ago.

Shortly after the Armistice the city of Mons struck a special commemorative medal to give to Canadian soldiers as a reminder of the gratitude of the Belgian people. The medallion was presented to officers and men of the 3rd Canadian Division who had participated in the recapture of Mons from the retreating German army in November, 1918. Years later the Burgomaster of Mons learned that three battalions of the 2nd Division also served in the action, and recently the city council of Mons had more medallions struck so that no one should be overlooked.

These are the medallions which have now arrived in this country. Thirty years and another World War have intervened since the event which the souvenirs commemorate, but old ties have not been forgotten. This graceful tribute will be appreciated in Canada.

Seen in Passing

One of the chief comforts of history is that humanity, obviously, is alive to write it. Were all the trends that were taken so seriously in their day by historians conclusive man would have destroyed himself long ago. Somehow, he escaped that, to stumble and blunder, to rage and rave; but after a while, too, to build and to progress. The surest lessons of history are that life is change and that in that change the human animal is slowly improving.

From "The Song of Honour"

The song of courage, heart and will
And gladness in a fight,
Of men who face a hopeless hill
With sparkling and delight.
And bells and bells of song that ring
Round banners of a cause or king—
From armies bleeding white—

The songs of sailors every one
When monstrous tide and tempest run
At ships like bulls at red,
When stately ships are twirled and spun
Like whipping-tops and help there's none
And mighty ships ten thousand ton
Go down like lumps of lead—

And songs of fighters stern as they,
At odds with fortune night and day,
Crammed in the cities grim and grey
As thick as bees in hives.
Hosannas of a lowly throng
Who sing unconscious of their song,
Whose lips are in their lives . . .

Beacon Hill Park

Frank M. Kelley

A thing of beauty could be a joy forever, provided man could make it last that long. Unfortunately beauty, in most of its varieties at least, just won't last for anything like forever. There are majestic grandeurs, like most mountains, for instance, which seem to be eternal; but with man-made beauties, like gardens and parks, no matter how seasonally lovely they can be made to look, it is only for a time that these can be appreciated to the fullness of their attractive appeal.

This bit has to do with seasonal and all interested that certain eye-sweet beauties, which can be retained in the memory for ever so long, are now going begging for eye-approval right here in Victoria. Beacon Hill Park is, or was a day or so ago, resplendent in its late Spring or early Summer glory, whichever you prefer to call this season of sorts, and never looked better, in the opinion of one who should really know—Parks Superintendent W. H. Warren.

Ebullastic about the loveliness created by his assistants, who have labored diligently to that end, and the mixture of weather particularly conducive to the growth of wild flowers with which this section of Vancouver Island has been favored recently, Mr. Warren urges all lovers of the beautiful to take a little time out and see for themselves how lovely Beacon Hill Park can be at its best, which is just now, he contends.

COLOR MASTERPIECE

Mother Nature herself, mixing the best sorts of weather ingredients for the growth of a crop of wild beauty, plus the care with which the wild flowers have been nurtured through the co-operation of visitors, who refrained from disturbing the plants in past blossoming periods, presents a masterpiece of coloring, pleasing perspective and what one might call the near-perfect ensemble.

Yes, Mother Nature illustrates what a consummate artist she can be, wielding her brushes on a canvas of such dimensions as is spread out for annually through the thoughtfulness of far-sighted Victorians in another generation. There the camass and the buttercup, wild flowers which Victorians raved over when they made patches of beauty among the oaks of Uplands, are featured in joyous masses of blending colors over wide strips of landscape on a scale which well might inspire the pencil of a gifted composer.

It is not often—even if the combination does not delight the gardener who planted his vegetable seeds about the usual time of the year in these parts and is now anxiously watching for the the little sprigs of green—that the climate of Southern Vancouver Island cooperates with all the other agents Nature employs to supply her with colors as it has done this backward Spring.

There have not been many Springs quite like it. I remember one or two very similar, when the majority of days during a week would be overcast and threatening rain. One was during the Great War days, when some declared the state of the weather (not peculiar to Victoria) could be blamed on the thunder of the guns on the Western Front, and prompted others to opine that the "heavens were mourning over the foolishness and futility of men, doing their best to destroy one another."

Well, there are no guns shattering the atmosphere on a Western Front these days. At that, possibly the heavens have good reasons for remaining overcast and darksome, when they should be bright, maybe because men will not be sensible and practice the precepts of the Golden Rule.

Getting back to Beacon Hill Park, lovely, no matter what is being painted on world canvases by artists with little or no idea of the blending of harmonious colors. Even when the park was not the object of such constant care as it is getting from the director who appreciates the advantages of continuous co-operation with the kindly and bounteous distributor of seasonal flora, it was still a very lovely place in which to while away an hour or two, although its charms then were based mainly on the "as Nature made it" appeal.

PLEASING PICTURE

There were camass there, then, and buttercups, too, though not so plentiful as now. The park always appealed to me. Once, on a belated Spring day, maybe not so backward as this one, I chanced to meet an elderly chap while wandering along the main road by the deer enclosure. The side of the hill was lush green, amid which camass and buttercups stood out conspicuously in vivid patches. He was Irish, I couldn't help but conclude, when he stopped me and said:

"Me bhoy, will ye tell me why they keep telling folk this part of Vancouver Island is a 'little bit of Old England?' Look at that green, will ye, now? Only in Ireland could ye see the like. And the flowers, fit only for the 'little people.' Bhoy, had ye the 'gift' 'tis in this very place ye'd be seeing them betimes; aye, and talking to them belike."

Somehow I half believed him then, and now, looking over the same sweep of colorful hillside, recalling that Irishman, am willing to admit he was better than half right. If the "little people" couldn't find it to their liking, they would be mighty hard to please.

Snake Diet for Air Rescue Students

By HARRY LEVER
North American Newspaper Alliance

THE EVERGLADES, Fla., May 17. —A poisonous water moccasin for breakfast, with its fishy taste, is part of a strange daily diet for the air rescue service's tropical survival experts and students in this forbidding and inaccessible area.

Dinner is an equally deadly rattlesnake and supper a wildcat or alligator, perhaps garnished with snails, turtle eggs and palm cabbage, which is the meat of the palm tree and tastes like noodles when cooked.

The young doctors, medical corpsmen and rescue teams who are taking this jungle course with the 5th Air Rescue Squadron here are proving that if a flyer cracks up in a vast, gloomy swampland, he can survive comfortably—well, anyway, he can survive—on snakes and animals and edible plants until he is rescued.

The palms rise high here, and there are scrub oak, tall reeds, quicksand, enormous clumps of sharp "saw grass," and plenty of taro and arrowroot which if consumed raw or incorrectly cooked, may fatally poison the eater with its potassium-cyanide crystals.

The air rescue survival specialists teach their students how to identify poisonous plants and also how to stalk and trail moccasins, rattlers, venomous coral snakes, panthers, wildcats, opossums and anything else they may come across in the way of potential food.

Even flowers are edible—when it comes to sustaining existence—after they have been cleaned of the special Everglades-type scorpions and black-widow spiders.

The experts and their students are based near Immokalee, a small habitation on the fringe of the Everglades. When they complete their training here and receive additional survival work off the Florida coast, in Alaska and at a desert area, they will be used to reach crashed airplanes in any part of the country.

Planes have crashed in this jungle and never have been found. Hunting or exploration parties are reported to have entered the dismal swampland from time to time and have never been seen again.

A group of us formed a special party of seven to explore the jungle at night about 25 miles from base to find out whether it as as bad as pictured. It was. Especially since we were told you have to sink into the swamps up to your hips in hunting the cottonmouth.

The minute we pitched camp toward nightfall trouble piled up. The supporting cords of my hammock broke twice during the night and dropped me to the ground to the accompanying howl of a not too-distant panther.

My flashlight wouldn't work and I had forgotten my C-rations. Then wild pigs started gnawing as my knapsack, just to break the monotony.

Some of the boys in the party went hunting to see how they'd make out as air rescue survival experts. The only thing to guide them in their cross-country trek was the distant light of a fire we made. They also tried guiding themselves by the stars until it began to rain. All animals and snakes must have gone to bed because they didn't meet any.

In the morning, a quick shot ripped off the head of a snake. A flock of wild turkeys which disturbed the bush brought an unsuccessful fusillade of bullets.

A helicopter appeared in the distance, trying to find us. Another air rescue 'copter' hovered not far off.

The chief survival expert at the base, who also had come out to check on us, signaled one craft in by sun-mirror. The pilot found a small clearing and then flew me to Immokalee for treatment of my injured ankle by a "paradoctor."

PUBLIC OFFICES

Sir,—The Colonist of today reports a plan to erect a $1,250,000 unit to house additional offices and staffs for the administration of the hospital insurance scheme and the sales tax collection.

It is estimated that each new department will require 150 assistants; 300 more non-productive employees to be supported by industry and commerce.

I suggest that the governmental structure of the country is already top-heavy, and that additional weight without due attention to the foundation of the whole national estate, primary production, is sheer folly; ruinous to the owners and an exhibition of extravagant management on the part of their estate agents, the Government.

A REJOINER

Sir,—In reply to Mrs. H. Edwards' letter of May 13, which appeared in this column, I would like to point out a few facts of which I am sure Mrs. Edwards is not aware. As I am a member of the Victoria Girls' Drill Corps, I feel I am in a position to do so.

Firstly, Mrs. Edwards refers to our trips as "pleasant little jaunts." Any lengthy trips we take outside of our city count as holiday time or else we take leave without pay from our jobs. We sat up all night on the train going down to Portland last year and paid for our own meals while there. During our six-day stay in Portland we put on twenty-three performances and took part in a parade which was seven miles long. Seven miles is a mighty long walk when you have to pick up your knees, swing your arms, and smile. It is no joy-ride.

Secondly, Mrs. Edwards refers to our fame as "nonsense." At the end of our twenty-five minute drill which we performed before 39,000 people at the Multnomah Stadium the announcer said. "There goes the finest marching unit you will see anywhere on this continent!" Wherever we parade in the United States we hear comments of, "There are the girls from Canada!" and "There are the girls from Victoria!"

Certainly the United States has many fine drill units, but we still rate high on their popularity list. If we do not, why is it that we are one of only three Canadian contingents invited to the Rose Festival this year? Why is it that we have been invited to take part in an honor performance termed a "Military Extravaganza" along with nine American military bands?

Thirdly, Mrs. Edwards states that many of the girls join the team "mainly for the social life and good times they have." Of course we joined the team for good times, but those same good times only come about after hours of hard practice. Apart from the nights we put in performing for various clubs and functions, we spend two nights a week (the drummers three) of hard, hard work to become what we are.

Fourthly, Mrs. Edwards refers to the many "married women" on the team. Of a present membership of eighty there are two married girls, one an assistant to Captain Foster and one just married May 8.

We agree with Mrs. Edwards on the matter of holding a tag day, but what is the matter with Victoria that we should have to hold a tag day in order to raise funds to represent her? The people of Victoria depend largely on tourist trade for a livelihood, why not go all out to draw the tourists here? You have a wonderful opportunity in the drill team, why not support it?

You will find us at the Bay St. Arm from 6 till 8 on Thursdays, at the Theatrical Arts School from 8:15 till 10 on Thursdays, and at Central Junior High School at 7 on Tuesdays, from where we leave on route marches. And if you want to see if we are appreciated or not, your correspondent could accompany us to Portland as a chaperone from June 6-13.

Duncan's parking meter controversy calls to mind the following report compiled last week by the American Society of Planning Officials: "To avoid parking meters, farmers are setting up shopping centres in their own rural communities. The farmer's objections to meters are simple. When he comes to town he has a lot of errands to do in the central district. It is often difficult for him to move it or feed the meter another nickel. The farmer naturally objects more to the fines he has to pay for parking overtime at a meter than he does to the cost of metered parking. Many small cities must provide off-street parking facilities 'if they want to hold the farmer's business.' . . . "Bill, you are putting on weight again. You should take some exercise," the boss said to Bill, the Broad Street barber. "I am thankful that my frame is not as thin as spars. I get plenty of exercise," Bill retorted. "About the only exercise you get is by jumping to conclusions," the boss chuckled . . . "Last time you cut my hair, it grew again in less than ten days. I suppose you call it the new look." "My name for such a hair cut is a 'ten-day come back.'" "Have you no respect for age?" an elderly friend said to Barber Ben. "Your only respect for age is when it is bottled," Ben snickered . . . When the Keating Squire visited a neighbor, he reluctantly sat down to coffee and cake while the man's son proudly trotted out an accordion he had just learned to play. "Here goes my version of 'Swanee River,'" the lad said. He asked the squire how he had enjoyed it when the last note echoed throughout the kitchen. "Well, to me it was not much like 'Swanee River.' Perhaps it was one of its tributaries," the squire replied,

Clubs of extra tall girls and young men are being formed in Canada under the patronage of Y.M.C.A. These clubs have been a highly successful experiment in the United States for several years past. In one Canadian city, the six-foot club has over 70 members enrolled.

To be leigible, if you are a girl, you have to be at least five feet 11 inches; if a boy, six feet two or over.

These associations are bringing joy and indescribable relief to an element of our young folk which has been under a major social handicap for generations. A six-foot niece of mine who has joined the club told me with great feeling that out of a crowd of 20 or more girl members, only two or three had ever learned to dance. As children, they were tall. At the age when most girls learn to dance, the boys were all shrimps who avoided the indignity of being pirouetted around by a girl a foot taller than they. Most men like to look down on their girls.

But, for the extra tall boys, the same thing holds true in reverse. They don't like to look down on a girl whose head bobs up around their belt.

Somewhere during the mid-youth of a person destined to be tall, whether boy or girl, comes a stage at which, unless fortune is kind, the child is cut off from normal happy association with its fellows. They are lonely because they have, actually, moved away from their comrades. Short people suffer no such isolation. At the least, they have the feet, legs and torsos of their fellow men all comfortably around them. A very tall person's glance catches mighty few other eyes in a day's march. It's lonesome up there.

The new six-footer clubs are offering king size people the chance to dance and sing and laugh together face to face.—Canada Wide Feature Service Ltd.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North

Pass	Pass	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

Although the six-spade contract could have been defeated and East-West could have been beaten three tricks at their six-heart sacrifice contract, it is not fair to charge North with an error. From his point of view, when South, vulnerable, could afford to overcall four hearts with four spades, there appeared to be an excellent chance for a spade slam. The heart ace to South's hand was a very fortunate duplication of values.

The actual errors referred to above were, first West's double of six spades, and, second, his opening lead against that contract. Thus he could have defeated the slam, but he could not be at all sure of that. Since he did double, however, his choice of a low heart for his opening was indefensible, either a club lead, or the ace and another diamond would have been effective.

However, South gave the hand back to the enemy. He described a diamond from dummy on the opening lead, winning with his own blank ace, and after that there was no way to avoid the loss of a diamond and a club, even though the missing diamond honors lay perfectly.

Perhaps it is needless to say that South should have discarded a club from dummy, after drawing trumps, established the diamond suit. By finding the ace and queen on side, he could have discarded two clubs from his own hand with the greatest ease.

Present War in Palestine Continues Pattern Drawn in Dawn of History

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Here's an A.B.C. on Palestine and the Jewish-Arab war.

Palestine, half the size of Nova Scotia, is a strip of land with the Mediterranean on one side, a great desert on the other. It's been bloody ground.

It was a land-bridge between Egypt on the south and the great ancient kingdoms, like Babylonia, which sprang up and died north and northeast of it.

Camel trains and armies, heading north or south, barged through Palestine, using it as a highway or a battlefield.

For tens of thousands of years men have moved in, settled down, been crushed or ousted by others coming behind them.

JEWISH KINGDOM

About 1,200 B.C. the Jews strode in from the desert. They overran another Semitic tribe, the Canaanites, who were there before them.

By 1,030 B.C., the Jews were able to set up their first kingdom in Palestine under Saul. Came golden days, crushing defeats. The Romans wiped out their state in 37 B.C.

Then the Jews, once desert-wanderers, became world-wanderers, persecuted, discriminated against, homeless—but they remembered their home land.

In 1897, Jews formed the Zionist organization to get back their homeland. The Zionists have been campaigning ever since.

At the time of the Great War the Turks controlled Palestine. Britain whipped the Turks in 1917.

In 1923 the League of Nations gave Palestine to Britain as a mandate.

Britain allowed some Jews to emigrate into Palestine. The Arabs protested bloodily. Since 1923 a dozen world commissions have been set up to study the problem of letting the Jews have a country or Government, side by side with the Arabs, in Palestine. No solution was found.

Then last year Britain told the United Nations she would give up her mandate and take her troops out of Palestine by May 15, 1948.

On November 29, 1947—with the backing of the United States and Russia—United Nations voted to partition Palestine.

That started fierce fighting between Jews and Arabs. On March 19, 1948, the United States reversed its stand on partition and asked the United Nations to set up another mandate, called a trusteeship.

PRESENT SET-UP

On May 15 Britain withdrew. The Jews immediately declared Palestine an independent Jewish state, called Israel (God rules). But the United Nations still hadn't agreed on a trusteeship.

And on May 15 the fighting grew worse. The Arab World closed in on Palestine.

This is the Arab World and the Jewish set-up in Palestine:

Seven Arab states—Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iraq, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Yemen—formed an Arab League in March, 1945.

The total Arab population of those seven countries, including the Arabs in Palestine, is about 34,000,000.

The Jews in Palestine number about 600,000. The Jewish fighting force—called Hagana (defence)—totals about 85,000.

Only five of the seven Arab states now are moving against the Jews in Palestine. They are Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Trans-Jordan, Iraq. Their total fighting force is only about 90,000.

(If Saudi Arabia and Yemen join the fight, they'll add only about 16,000 fighters.)

...Oddities...

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 17 (AP).—Three marathon gamblers rounded out a week of continuous play at the roulette wheels today and claimed they were ahead $12,300.

This was the largest winnings reported by the trio who began last Monday and, relieving each other at the table, followed a "system" which involves consistently playing Number One.

Jack Cortez, 32, New York, who took over this morning's shift, said the system was working "perfectly." The trio raised the amount of each bet from the $3 they were playing last week to $10 last night.

Cortez' fellow-players are Albert Hibbs, 22, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Roy Walford, also 23, of San Diego, Calif. They won $8,000 at Reno last year but have not fared too well in Las Vegas in recent weeks until their latest attempt.

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP).—The new look is great for an old crook.

An article in The American Druggist Magazine says the new long skirts give shoplifters greater opportunities to conceal stolen articles.

The fashions have brought back a once-outmoded device consisting of an elastic band fastened above the knee with hooks attached. Stolen articles are swept under the long skirt and hung on the hooks.

Labor Party Expels M.P.'s

SCARBOROUGH, Yorkshire, England, May 17 (CP). — The British Labor Party formally expelled two Members of Parliament today. It then set to work to rebuild Socialist unity for the 1950 election.

Without discussion or a dissenting vote, the 47th annual Labor Conference approved the expulsion of Alfred Edwards and Leftist John Platts-Mills for opposing party policies. Edwards has been critical of Government plans to nationalize the iron and steel industry.

Platts-Mills was one of the signers of a telegram sent to the Communist-allied Socialists of Pietro Nenni wishing them good luck in the Italian April elections. Twenty-one other members of Parliament escaped expulsion by promising to follow Labor's anti-Communist line.

War Minister Shinwell, Labor Party chairman, keynoted the conference with an appeal for harmony.

"There is far too much at stake for indulgence in political private enterprise," he said. "This movement must march in unison and practise the toleration and democracy it preaches."

Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, giving top priority to the 1950 elections, called on the delegates to "prepare for a victory of consolidation."

He warned Winston Churchill's Conservative Opposition against a repetition of attempts to slow down Government legislation, such as were carried out recently against the Gas Industry Nationalization Bill and against a reform of the House of Lords.

"Parliament has no right to fool about with obstructions and irrelevances—we are not going to allow it to go on," Morrison declared. "If the Tories insist in obstruction, they are asking for some more reforms in Parliamentary procedure."

Fish Export Move Rapped

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—British Columbia members rapped the Cabinet in the Commons today for removing restrictions on export of fish livers to the United States without warning either the members or the fishing industry.

H. G. Archibald (C.C.F., Skeena), J. L. Gibson (Ind., Comox-Alberni), James Sinclair (L., Vancouver North) and Angus MacInnes (C.C.F., Vancouver East) protested that the move will injure the industry.

Wesley Stuart (L., Charlotte) said, however, that the move will have the "full-hearted support of fishermen in the Maritimes."

Fisheries Minister Mackinnon said his department had nothing to do with the change, but that he will make inquiries.

Peace River Rail Outlet Plea Renewed

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—Solon Low, Social Credit leader, called today upon the Government to build the long-sought railway line from the Peace River country of Northern Alberta and British Columbia to the Pacific Coast.

During study of Transport Department estimates in the House of Commons, he recalled that Prime Minister Mackenzie King first promised to undertake the construction in 1925. Lack of a line to the Coast was retarding development of the Peace River area.

He was joined by William Irvine (C.C.F., Cariboo), who said opening of a railroad would mean a great influx of population and a great outflow of new wealth. The country was rich in forests, agricultural products and mineral deposits.

STILL INTERESTED

Transport Minister Chevrier said the Government had not lost interest in the Peace River but he could give no undertaking without first consulting the Cabinet. The British Columbia Government was making a survey of the potentialities of the region. When its report was received, it would be given careful consideration.

The railway companies did not feel they should build a line into a new area until sufficient traffic and revenues were assured.

Mr. Low said the Peace River country now had a population of 100,000. There people, because they had only one line coming up from Edmonton and no outlet to the Pacific, had to carry a freight and transportation burden beyond all reason.

Railway lines must precede the development of a district like the Peace River, not follow it. An outlet to the Pacific would take less than 500 miles of new construction and cut off 500 miles of transportation for the producers.

Nation Awaits Tax Secrets With Interest

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—Parliament and the country are awaiting with keen interest the taxation secrets which Finance Minister Abbott will unfold to the Commons tomorrow night.

At precisely 8 E.D.T. tomorrow evening he will begin presentation of the 1948-49 budget, reading from a speech which is expected to run to approximately 13,000 words. It will give an accounting of revenue and expenditure during the last fiscal year and, more important, present a forecast of taxation measures to come.

In this potential election year, both in the Federal field and in the provinces, few on Parliament Hill are anxious to prophesy what the budget may contain. But there is general agreement on one point: It will show the greatest surplus in Canadian history.

This surplus—the excess of revenues over expenditures for 1947-48—is expected to total $800,000,000 or more. It will put into the shade the $352,000,000 surplus which was reported last year for 1946-47 and which, until then, was Canada's record surplus.

With a surplus of that magnitude, Mr. Abbott is expected to find it difficult to justify current taxation levels and there is wide expectation that he will do something to relieve the burden on the taxpayer.

Just where the reductions will be remains, of course, a state secret until the minister begins his budget address. But there is an expectation he will lean toward cuts in the indirect—rather than the direct—taxation field.

Chance Seen Palestine War May Follow India's Pattern

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

It has long been apparent that force would be necessary to solve the Palestine problem. Now, instead of being applied by other nations as a police measure, it is being applied in the form of war. Negotiations still continue in the United Nations and in the major capitals, but the efficacy of these results depends on the course of the war.

There is still the possibility that, as in India after the British withdrawal there, the shooting will die down without a definite military decision. Observers have cast strong doubt on both the ability and determination of the Arabs.

Proponents of repeal of the United States embargo on arms to the Middle East are using this as an argument, contending that the issue must be kept open for further negotiation by helping the Jews to protect themselves. A military stalemate, they hope, will force the Jews and Arabs to emulate India and Pakistan in resuming the effort for a real solution.

Despite all the talk about Arab disunity, however, Arab sources appeared to take it for granted that their armies will press for complete conquest of Israel.

Plans are being made for a concerted campaign in the small area from Acre to just south of Tel Aviv. The immediate Arab objective is to cut the Jewish area into small pieces which can then be overrun one by one.

Then, they believe, the capture of the modern city of Tel Aviv would mean the end of Jewish resistance.

To meet the forces which are being arrayed against them, Israel Stern terrorists, into unity against is buying arms wherever they may the Arabs. It is by no means certain that everything the Arab League has will be sufficient to dislodge them. Hagana, Irgud and the

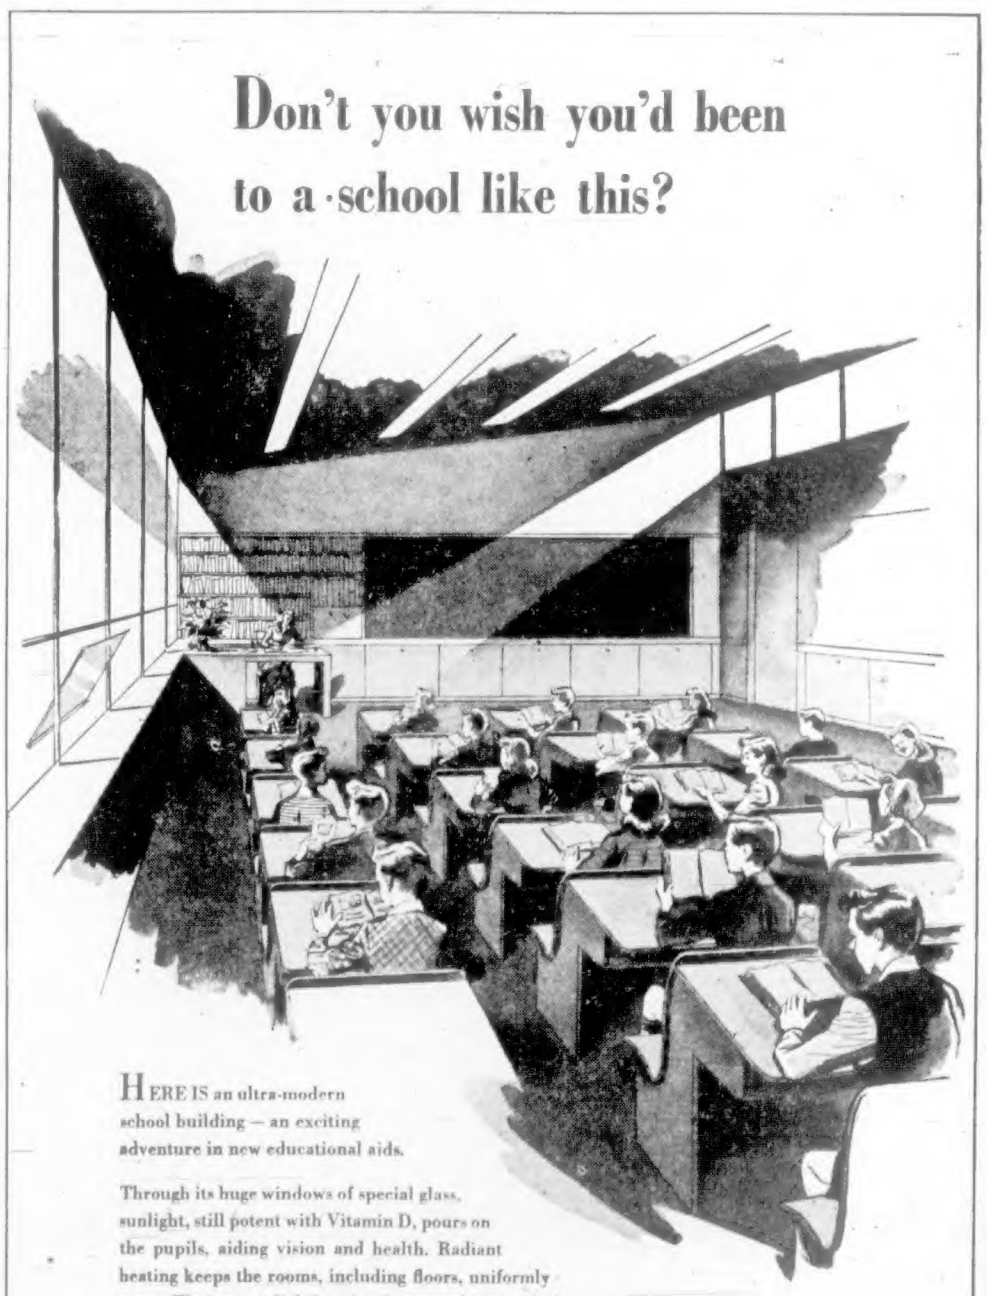
Don't you wish you'd been to a school like this?



HERE IS an ultra-modern school building — an exciting adventure in new educational aids.
Through its huge windows of special glass, sunlight, still potent with Vitamin D, pours on the pupils, aiding vision and health. Radiant heating keeps the rooms, including floors, uniformly warm. Fluorescent lighting simulates sunshine on dull days. Glare-free blackboards, posture-correcting seats, and improved desks help students to concentrate.
Thus education marches on! And in many Canadian communities these modern school buildings are built with the aid of life insurance dollars.
This is but one example of the many public and private enterprises in which the life insurance companies annually invest over 300 million dollars on behalf of policyholders.
Thus each dollar you invest in life insurance serves two purposes. It provides security for your family's future. And it helps to promote the welfare of the nation.

From England to Make Home Here

Like most English people coming to Canada, they are quick to express their gratitude for food parcels sent to the Old Country. "We received one of these parcels ourselves, last Christmas, and it was a wonderful gift," they said. "It wasn't only the interesting food we received but the 'lift' it gave us to feel that people in other parts of the Empire behind us."

Mr. Siemann was a well-known London insurance superintendent and served in an executive position in the insurance industry during the war.

Canada Needs More Unity Says Archivist

W. E. Ireland, provincial archivist, believes the most solid foundation for unity within Canada lies in the parallelisms of the country's discovery, development and progress.

In an address to the Gyro Club at Lougheed's Banquet Club yesterday, he stressed that in the minds of too many people the Dominion [illegible] Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, the Prairies and British Columbia.

"We must think nationally," he urged.

Mr. Ireland said unity within the country was becoming stronger, due primarily to the fact distance was no longer a barrier, and because of the large number of service personnel who traveled across Canada during the war.

In addition, unity had been promoted to a considerable extent through enactment of Canadian citizenship legislation just over a year ago, he said.

Discovery and development of the Dominion has followed the same general pattern in all areas, he said, especially in the past when Canada became united through direct fear of United States' aggression.

Esquimalt Fines Cost Drivers $95

Total of $95 in fines was levied in Esquimalt court yesterday, Police Chief Gilbert Stancomb reported.

Two motorists were fined $15 each for exceeding 30 miles per hour; and another $10 for traveling more than 15 miles an hour in a school zone.

Four drivers were fined $5 each for failing to stop at a stop sign; one man $10 for failing to have a current year's licence plate on his car, and another $5 for failing to have a current year's driver's licence.

John Taylor was fined $10 for installing plumbing without a permit, and a similar amount for failing to have a trades' licence.

Engineer Writes New Song

Keith Grey, Belfast-born composer now living in Victoria, has had another song accepted for publication. It is "Come Away With Me," accepted by Hollywood [illegible] for sheet music and record production.

"Some Day We'll Meet Upon a Star," a previous composition, was accepted by Nordike Music Publishing Company, and may be slated for movie use.

Mr. Grey, Great War aviator who learned his flying from ace pilot W. A. Bishop, tells of writing lyrics on a pad on his knee while in the air.

An electrical engineer who composes popular music in his spare time, he has had seven songs accepted for publication since 1930. They include "To My Ireland," "Setting Sail for Ireland," "Do You Long for Ireland?" and "Whose Sweetheart Are You?"

How To Get Quick Relief From Sore, Painful Piles

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you, too, if you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles.

My Hem-Roid treatment is different. Hem-Roid is an internal medicine—a small tablet taken with a glass of water. It corrects the conditions INSIDE your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you. Hem-Roid seems to help some pile sufferers more than others so I want to protect those who are not satisfied. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them as much as they expect it to. If Hem-Roid helps you, surely it is worth the small cost. Otherwise I want you to have your money back. I'll take your word. #1 find people are honest about such things.

All I ask is you use Hem-Roid as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied return what you did not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid is an unusual medicine. It has been sold on a refund promise for over 40 years. I am not asked to make many refunds so it must help most folks who use it. At all drug stores.

Legion Hears D.V.A. Officials

GANGES, May 17.—S. H. Okell, assistant district administrator, Department of Veterans' Affairs, Victoria, and Dr. A. Coy, assistant district medical officer, recently addressed a combined meeting of the Salt Spring Island Branch of the Canadian Legion and its Women's Auxiliary.

Mr. Okell discussed functions of D.V.A., while Dr. Coy explained varied types of treatment available to veterans.

A cheque for $100 was presented by the entertainment committee to the auxiliary to aid European relief.

Wins Shield Second Time

COURTENAY, May 17.—Presenting an original script Comox District Mountaineering Club won the Courtenay Recreational Association shield for the best performance in "Skattered Skits of 1948," a variety show staged here recently.

It was the second straight win for the Mountaineering Club. Adjudicator was Miss A. Goldrick, producer of service shows and director of the Vancouver Little Theatre.

Second place went to Courtenay Kinsmen who exhibited elephantine grace and charm in a ballet danced to the music of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

Courtenay Junior Fish and Game Club was awarded third spot for its presentation of a minstrel show. The Rotary Club presented its version of "The Mikado."

A humorous patter sketch from the Business and Professional Women's Club gave added variety to the entertainment which was concluded by a clever farmyard transformation scene by the Soroptimists.

Navy Visits Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, May 17.—H.M.C.S. Crescent, under command of Lieut.-Cmdr. J. A. Charles, anchored in Ladysmith Harbor on Friday afternoon and left early Sunday morning.

Mayor Leonard Ryan and representatives of the Board of Trade, Legion and Lions Club officially welcomed the ship on its arrival.

An exhibition softball game between the crew and the local Travellers' Hotel team was played on Market Square on Friday evening. This was followed by a free dance in the Native Sons Hall, sponsored by the Ladysmith City Council and catered to by a committee of women.

The crew was again entertained on Saturday by Ladysmith Branch of the Canadian Legion.

DEDICATES ALTAR

GANGES, May 17.—At the morning service yesterday at St. George's Church here Ven. G. H. Holmes dedicated a carved oak altar given by N. P. Eburne in memory of his wife, Rosa Evelyn Eburne, who died last December.

Nanaimo Council Plans To Float $200,000 Loan

NANAIMO, May 17.—Acting on the advice of the finance committee Nanaimo City Council, with ratepayers approval, may borrow the sum of $200,000 in order to avoid tax increases and carry on essential work.

Last year taxes were raised approximately 35 per cent and the mill rate is now 67. Interest on the loan would be $15,000 annually, but debt charges during the current year decrease by over $15,800, more than sufficient to cover the charges created by the proposed loan, the committee points out. It also counts on receiving a substantial share of the sales tax next year.

Mayor George Muir said: "We can't keep on spending and the final analysis must go to the ratepayers. There are many essential jobs to be put through, and they cannot be done without more money."

Council refused an application for license by Lakah Singh for hauling fuel in the city.

A letter from the secretary of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities asked the city's opinion regarding holding the 1948 convention on board the Ss. Princess Kathleen on a trip north. Council will ascertain cost to delegates before passing their opinion on the plan.

Request of the Empire Day Celebration Committee for use of City Hall for headquarters, and parking space for eight cars, during the time of the celebration, was referred to the streets committee.

Mrs. J. C. Cowie, for the Food for Britain committee reported collection of the sum of $254.67 to be forwarded soon.

Club Wants Lake Cleaned, Surveyed

GANGES, May 17.—Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club recently passed a resolution asking that St. Mary's Lake be cleaned by a bulldozer for a stipulated sum and a survey made of the area.

Permission from landowners affected will have to be obtained and members will make the survey Wednesday, May 19, it was announced.

Club secretary will be asked to communicate with the game commissioner and ask that the club be supplied with Kamloop fingerlings for Maxwell, Cucheon and St. Mary's Lakes.

Another resolution asked that a closed season be ordered on grouse and that more pheasants be brought to the island. A crow-shoot will be held May 26, June 9 and 23.

Legion Meets At Errington

ERRINGTON, May 17.—Regular meeting of the Mount Arrowsmith Branch No. 49, Canadian Legion, was held recently in the Errington War Memorial Hall with the president, R. H. Abbott, in the chair. Twenty members and three visitors attended.

Major A. P. McLaughlin and E. Knight were initiated as new members. The entertainment committee reported a favorable month for April, and four comrades volunteered to help build stalls for the market.

Award Slated For Athlete At Courtenay

COURTENAY, May 17.—If George Wadland passes only two subjects in his high school examinations next month, he will be granted a four-year athletic scholarship at Gonzaga University in Spokane.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wadland, Cliffe Avenue, George has been recommended for the award by a former resident of Gonzaga now teaching in the district.

He holds the provincial school record for the eight-pound shot-put and the unofficial high jump record for high schools. He is also an outstanding basketball player.

Funeral Held For Chinese

CUMBERLAND, May 17.—Funeral services were held yesterday for Hock Shun Lowe, commonly known as Lai Yuen, who died recently at his home here.

Born in China 87 years ago, Mr. Lowe came to Victoria and was employed for some time as foreman of Chinese workers building the E. & N. Railway.

Mr. Lowe came to Cumberland more than 50 years ago and organized the On Leong Benevolent Association about 1900. It later became the Cumberland Chinese Benevolent Association. He served as president for several terms.

He was chairman of the Cumberland branch, Chinese Freemasons, during the Great War.

Bottle-Fed Fawn Doing Well

NANAIMO, May 17. — A two-weeks-old fawn found at the K.M.W. logging operations at Nanoose Bay was brought to Game Warden Frank Greenfield's office today and is now being cared for by Steve Kozac at South Wellington. It feeds from a bottle with a nipple.

The little doe was apparently deserted by its mother, and insisted in staying close to timber being felled at the operations. Kozac waited three hours for its mother before bringing it to Nanaimo. It will be liberated in the Autumn, unless other arrangements made are approved by the Game Department.

Cat Flies West To Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI, May 17.—"Peg-Leg Pete," a cat belonging to Mrs. G. H. Greenhalgh, wife of St. Alban's Church rector, recently arrived here after a flight from Toronto as air-express guest of T.C.A.

Mrs. Greenhalgh first met the cat when it was a kitten in army barracks in Toronto when she was a member of the C.W.A.C. It had suffered a broken leg and hobbled around in splints and was given its odd nickname.

Seaplane Lands On Lake

ERRINGTON, May 17.—A Norseman seaplane, piloted by H. D. Hughes, on the West Coast run from Vancouver to Tofino and Zeballos was forced down on Cameron Lake this afternoon from engine trouble. Six passengers aboard were taken ashore.

Two mechanics were flown in from the Sea Island base to work on the engine, and it was hoped the aircraft would be ready to resume her trip by tonight, or early tomorrow.

Duncan Plans Cost Inquiry

DUNCAN, May 17.—Duncan City Council is considering purchase of a new fire engine and erection of a new fire hall.

At a recent council meeting Mayor J. C. Wragg suggested a resolution to inquire into the cost of such a project with the intention of presenting the question to taxpayers. Council was in accord with his suggestions.

Anti-Communism Body Organized in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, May 17.—Nine hundred Nanaimo citizens voted unanimously last night to form an organization to vigorously combat "Communism or subversive fifth column evidences" wherever they make themselves apparent.

Answering a City Council call for a public rally against reported subversive elements in Nanaimo, 700 citizens crowded the theatre packing and 200 massed outside, listening to the speeches through public address systems.

Fireworks were expected during the meeting, but officials afterward reported "there wasn't even a heckle." The rally was called after a local meeting was broken up two weeks ago, allegedly by "Red hoodlumism."

The citizens endorsed a resolution to be sent to the Dominion and Provincial Governments and to the mayors of British Columbia cities.

In the main, the resolution urged that "Canadians must realize intimidation is being attempted and liberty is being attacked by efforts organized in secret."

"Any Canadian who knowingly follows directions which flow from Moscow is guilty of fifth column activity and treason towards Canada," the resolution declared.

The platform array at the rally included General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P. for Nanaimo; Howard Mitchell, president, Vancouver Board of Trade; W. J. Borrie, vice-president, Vancouver Chamber of Commerce, and Nanaimo Mayor George Muir.

High Tenders Surprising

DUNCAN, May 17.—The school board here expressed surprise recently when tenders for a proposed new school were opened.

While the school was originally estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 the lowest tender was approximately $30,000.

All debentures from the different districts that comprise School District No. 65 have been sold, and the building program which passed by a margin of only five votes, is now expected to be a problem to complete.

SCOUTS, CUBS MEET

ERRINGTON, May 17.—The group committee of Errington Scouts and Cubs met recently at the home of Mrs. J. Kirkpatrick. Commissioner T. R. Walker, and S. Jennings, representing the local committees, were present. Plans for a camping trip to Scout Lake at the end of June were discussed.

Length of B.C. Pastoral Terms Discussed by Ministers in City

Campaign to raise $15,000 to complete and equip Naramata United Church School, near Penticton, was authorized yesterday at the closing session of the 24th annual B.C. United Church Conference in First United Church.

Additional financial assistance will also be sought from the General Council which meets in Vancouver in September.

He said that he had nothing to counteract false interpretations of history of the United Church, adding that records of its activities were inadequate.

Delegates approved Mr. Ireland's stand when he expressed opposition to any proposed action to move records of B.C. churches to Eastern Canada.

WILL RETIRE

sion to define "the time and means of terminating pastoral relationship of ministers of the church."

Congregations may adopt a five-year term in consultation with the minister, to be prolonged or terminated at the discretion of both, it was decided.

No hard and fast rule as to length of the pastoral term in B.C. United Church charges was desirable, the ministers agreed.

Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, criticized what he called "misrepresentation of church history," before delegates.

"If I had it to do over again I would do it the same way."

Announcing his retirement with these words, Rev. Dr. J. J. Brown, head of U.B.C.'s Union College, Vancouver, gave his last report on college activities.

Ministers from all over the province rose to their feet to applaud the greying but alert leader, 21 years head of the church institution on Point Grey.

Earlier in the day, delegates met to honor the retiring church leader at luncheon.

Dr. Brown was presented with a travelling bag by Rev. Robert Moses, Vancouver, president of the college's alumni association.

Final report of the conference, which dealt with full-time workers, said that five ministers left the B.C. United Church in the past year. Only one new minister was added to conference rolls, it was learned.

Also noted at the concluding sessions was a "serious shortage of deaconesses and other full-time women church workers." More than 100 women workers are needed at once, it was reported.

The conference for 1949 will be held at St. John's United Church, Vancouver, during May.

NAME CHAIRMEN

Conference nominating committee released the names of chairmen of all United Church committees for the 1948-1949 session. They are Rev. F. Stevens, West Vancouver, Christian education; Rev. M. W. Lees, Kelowna, Christian leadership school; Hon. W. T. Straith, K.C., Victoria, church property; Mrs. F. Yeo, Vancouver, deaconess order and women workers; Rev. W. E. Galloway, Vancouver, education and students; Rev. Dr. D. H. Telfer, Vancouver, evangelism and social service; Rev. J. C. Goodfellow, Princeton, historical; Revs J. C. Jackson, Victoria, home missions; W. J. Poulton, Vancouver, home for aged.

J. B. Clearihue, Victoria, law and legislation; Rev. H. E. Horton, Vancouver, missionary and maintenance; Dr. W. W. McPherson, Victoria, nominating; R. R. Morrison, Kamloops, overseas missions; W. E. Pinchin, White Rock, pensions; Rev. S. T. Galbraith, Vancouver, publications; Rev. William Deans, Vancouver, radio, and Rev. G. H. Hamilton, Vancouver, settlement.

Eight of the above members, with alternates, were elected to attend as British Columbia representatives on the board of the General Council of the United Church of Canada.

View Royal Elects Fire Trustees

Three fire trustees for the View Royal Fire Protection District were elected by acclamation in the View Royal Community Hall last night.

J. W. Cross was elected chairman for two years; W. B. Cole, two years; Harold Foxcroft, one year. C. A. Pope acted as returning officer under the authority of the letters patient issued by the Minister of Lands and approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Argentina has an area of 1,079,965 square miles and a population of about 14,130,800.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE Jl Barry Sullivan believed in superstitions, the actor, who, with Janis Carter, is the principal support to star Glen Ford in Columbia's "Framed," now at the Atlas Theatre, could just sit around and let things come his way. He's the seventh son of a seventh son.

ODEON THEATRE Tall handsome and good-natured Dennis Price thinks that film producers must have a grudge against him. In his sixth consecutive film, "The White Unicorn," Dennis meets an unpleasant fate. He is killed while ski-ing on his honeymoon with Margaret Lockwood in Finland. This entertaining film is now showing at the Odeon Theatre.

RIO THEATRE There's a treat in store for all visitors to the Rio Theatre to see the exciting new Charles R. Rogers' production, "Angel On My Shoulder," which bowed in yesterday through United Artists release. Publicized as a comedy-drama, the film has an intriguing mixture of fantasy for all those jaded cinema fans who are tired of swallowing their screen fare neat.

CAPITOL THEATRE Maureen O'Sullivan returns to the screen as Ray Milland's wife in Paramount's suspense-charged drama, "The Big Clock," now at the Capitol Theatre. The film, said to be one of the most exciting manhunts ever made, co-stars Milland with Charles Laughton.

YORK INTERNATIONAL An interesting innovation in film production was introduced during the making of "Splendor," Samuel Goldwyn's new production starring Miriam Hopkins at the York International Cinema, when the author Rachel Crothers was permitted to take the entire cast into the Fifth Avenue mansion which had been faithfully reconstructed on the set and rehearse them for one week. After the week of rehearsals was over, Elliott Nugent took over the directorial reins from Miss Crothers and the actual filming of "Splendor" got under way.

Universal Rule For Peace Aim Of Churchmen

Creation of an international assembly toward formation of world government was recommended by B.C. United Church ministers yesterday.

Delegates attending the 24th annual United Church Conference meeting here at First United Church stressed that unilateral action by members of the United Nations endangered the peace and that psychological propaganda had created a burden of fear and insecurity in the world.

They agreed that an appeal should be made to the Amsterdam meeting of the World Council of Churches this year "to take steps to organize world spiritual, social and cultural forces to consolidate world opinion for peace."

General Council of the United Church of Canada, which meets in Vancouver in September, will be asked to promote the cause of world government through the Federal Government and the United Nations.

Delegates also urged that the Provincial Legislature contribute an adequate sum to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

Buddy Rendall started on the mound for the Arctic and handcuffed the Eagles in the first two innings but his own wildness caused his downfall in the third. Five bases on balls, two singles and an error resulted in five runs and drove him to the showers.

Veteran Stan Davies took over and put out the fire but bumped into trouble in the succeeding innings being touched for single tallies in the fourth and fifth and four markers in the sixth.

The Blue and Gold garnered six hits from the combined offerings of Rendall and Davies on the night. Errors by Bennett and Fox Eagle errors figured in the scoring.

Count the Hairs on Your Head . . . and Divide by 10

Neglect of your scalp can lead to severe hair loss

The ordinary healthy head of hair, for the average person, contains about 120,000 hairs. Brunettes have the greatest number, about 140,000. Some redheads have as few as 90,000.

To keep your hair abundant and good-looking, you must have a healthy scalp. If it is too oily, or too dry, or clogged with dandruff, you can look for trouble. Neglect can lead to your hair thinning out so that instead of 120,000 hairs, you may end up with only a fourth as many — or even less!

Just as it pays to clean your teeth when young in order to keep them so it pays to take care of your scalp right now to save your hair. Whether or not you have dandruff your scalp will benefit from regular cleaning with Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo. Use Fitch's, the one shampoo guaranteed to remove dandruff.

New Position of India in East Stressed by High Commissioner

"India's deplorably low standard of living is a threat to democracy."

Yesterday the Hon. Sardar B. S. Malik, first High Commissioner to Canada from the Dominion of India, told the Canadian Club "it would be no philanthropic venture for Canadians to give help to the East."

Emphasizing that he was not asking for help, India's golfing diplomat urged Victoria business in the East.

"A prosperous Canada must know what India is doing and thinking," he declared.

He maintained that emergence of a great and free India has given her a very important position in the East.

Speaking quietly and fluently in Empress Hotel's crystal ballroom, he held how good Indo-British relations were upheld while the transfer of power took place last August 15, and termed it "a triumph of British magnanimity."

Although there was a time when relations with Britain were deteriorating, when the British Raj left India the hand of friendship was grasped and any previous bitterness was forgotten.

EFFECT GREAT

The psychological effect was tremendous, said India's Sikh diplomat.

"Now we have a heritage of goodwill and friendship which will never be better," he declared.

"Pandit Nehru is the undisputed leader of India today," Mr. Malik said.

Coming to power in a period of dangerous famine and general economic crisis Nehru not only has a strong Government but also the backing of the entire people of India, he added.

Proof of the staying power of the new Government of the Dominion of India is shown with her survival of a lengthy period of communal strife last Autumn, the Indian leader observed.

"However," he said, "if Britain interferes with developments in India then Indian public opinion will turn against Britain."

WANTS PEACE

He said that India had hoped for friendly relations with Pakistan but the present crisis in Kashmir had created much bad feeling.

"However, in due course, we hope for a satisfactory settlement of our problems," Mr. Malik said.

Of current reforms in India he said "by a stroke of the pen untouchability has become a crime."

India has always stood for peace and understanding, he said, and will use her power for peace because "she stands for the dignity of the human being."

Sunday the High Commissioner and his family worshipped at the Sikh Temple in the morning and in the evening they were guests at a banquet at Empress Hotel.

Official welcomes were voiced by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, for British Columbia; by Mayor Percy E. George, for the city of Victoria, and by reeves of the municipalities of Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich.

Welcome to the High Commissioner, his wife and daughter, was also extended by a member of the C.C.F. Opposition in the Legislature.

This afternoon Mr. Malik will address members of the Women's Canadian Club in Empress Hotel.

G. F. Simpson Passes at 90

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in McCall Brothers Floral Funeral Chapel for Graham Forgie Simpson, 90, of 2329 Kingsley Street, who died Sunday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mr. Simpson was born in Almonte, Ontario, and had resided in Victoria for 41 years, for 30 of which he was employed by the British American Paint Company. He was also a member of the Session of First United Church for many years.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. G. Davies, of Seattle; Mrs. J. Cameron and Kathleen, Victoria; a brother, W. H. Simpson, and a sister, Mrs. A. Mutch, of Crystal City, Man.

Rev. H. A. McLeod will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Beach Troller After Crash

Two feet was sheared from the bow of the Vancouver troller Cluny in a collision with the United States halibut vessel Havana one mile south of Poultenay Point at 11 p.m. Saturday, Provincial Police reported yesterday.

Stern portion of the Cluny was sawed with the aid of the Havana crew and she was beached at Scintula.

The Havana was leaking badly but managed to make her way to Seattle.

No one was reported injured.

Cluny is owned by Arthur Rogers, 2067 Comox Street, Vancouver, and the Havana by Harold Hanson, Seattle.

Ask Squadron For Victoria

A resolution requesting the formation of an R.C.A.F. auxiliary squadron in Victoria was made by the Ad Astra Branch of the Canadian Legion at a meeting in Britannia Branch Hall last night.

The branch is endeavoring to obtain its own quarters by Autumn, and in this connection, a rummage sale will be held on June 5 to raise funds.

Typhoon Whips Over Pacific

HONOLULU, May 17 (AP) — An unseasonable typhoon whipping across the Southwest Pacific is expected to miss Guam by about 100 miles, the Pacific Fleet Weather Central reported today.

Guam had battened down after earlier reports said the storm was headed directly toward that big United States base.

Approves Plan For Project

Approval for start of work on a playing field on the Lansdowne site for Victoria College was given by the Greater Victoria School Board last night.

The board was told that the students' council had offered to hold "working bees" of students in the Autumn after heavy clearing work had been done this Summer.

W. Jeune, trustee, said cost is estimated at $5,000, to be paid from the college account. The board approved a resolution from the Victoria College Council that a preliminary $2,000 be appropriated out of the 1948 college surplus account for the grading, draining and seeding of the field.

Flower Thieves Expand Business

Could it be that flower thieves in Victoria are looking after their own interests?

Thomas Moore, 876 Dallas Road, reported a sprinkler and hose stolen from his garden yesterday, according to city police.

Ask for Signs At Playground

Burnside Parent-Teacher Association yesterday asked in a letter to the city that safety signs be erected at the playground on Burnside Road for the "welfare and safety of all children."

Minister Plans To Open Bridge Along Highway

Latest link in the modernization of the Island Highway will be forged Thursday afternoon, when the new bridge over Englishman's River is formally opened by Public Works Minister E. C. Carson.

The 200-foot steel and concrete span, just south of Parksville, is said to be the best bridge on the highway.

Up-Island officials and local boards of trade will be present when Mr. Carson cuts the ribbon throwing the structure open to traffic.

The bridge was supposed to have been finished last Autumn, but was held up by lack of steel. Last December, high water in the river washed out a temporary bridge which had been built to carry Island Highway traffic. For more than a week, all traffic was diverted via a little-used side road.

Soon to Start Ground Repairs

Grading of grounds adjoining Doncaster School and grading and asphalt surfacing of the school driveway will be started soon.

Trustee M. P. Paine, in presenting the tentative building program to the Greater Victoria School Board last night, said the work will be given preference.

'Flu Reduces Budget For Teachers

The influenza epidemic, the first of this year, cost the Greater Victoria School Board more than half of its 1948 budget for substitute teachers.

This was disclosed in presentation to a board meeting last night of the expenditure up to April 30 this year as compared with budget for the year. Employment of substitute teachers when regular teachers were ill or absent cost $3,681 for the first four months of this year. Total yearly estimate of the cost is $7,000.

The financial report showed $552,594 has been spent of the estimated yearly expenditure of $1,640,240.

Oak Bay's attitude on arbitration of the school board estimates will be decided this Wednesday night, the board was told. Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt have abandoned their demand for arbitration of school costs.

Trustee R. Green, chairman of finance, asked that if Oak Bay goes into arbitration it be started immediately so the school board will know its position as soon as possible.

Chairman Austin I. Curtis pointed out the city, Saanich and Esquimalt pay 85 per cent of school costs and should have "some consideration." He made the statement during discussion on the possibility of the estimates being changed by an arbitration board decision.

SEEK AFFILIATIONS

Senior Citizens' Campaign Council yesterday invited the city to affiliate with the group in the drive to improve conditions for old-age pensioners.

A letter from the campaign council said it was an organization "created to go to bat for the old-age pensioners."

Should 'Share' Engineers Speaker Says

Municipalities who cannot afford to hire their own engineers should group together to hire them on a shared basis, says Col. LeRoy Fraser Grant, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

"If they did," he told local branch members and wives at an Empress Hotel dinner last night, "we wouldn't have so many streets running uphill and so many culverts not big enough to carry the water."

There are plenty of jobs available for young engineers now, he said, but an employment campaign would yield even more.

In a jocular address, the president, who is also associate professor of engineering at Queen's University, praised the work of student veterans and told of the high proportion of he-medaled family men in his classes.

Dr. L. Austin Wright, general secretary of the institute, said the standard of university engineering education was uniformly extremely high across Canada.

"Dean" of Victoria engineers, Frank Green, former British Columbia surveyor-general, who has been in the province for 50 years, also spoke briefly.

MYSTERY HOUSE

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

CHAPTER 1—Continued

"He's not her lawyer! My goodness," Mrs. Hurley exclaimed, buttered by the thought. "He don't want his name in this at all."

"It seems a very strange sort of job," Page observed unenthusiastically. "Is she queer? Is she an alcoholic? What's the matter with her, anyway?"

"There's no catch at all," Mrs. Hurley hastened to say. "Only—I thought it might be a lonely sort of place for you, that's all."

"But why this outside lawyer? Who's he?"

"Ah, well, you see, he's the lawyer of some people here named Hibbs—the Frederick Hibbses. Mrs. Hibbs is old Mrs. Prendergast's niece. The old lady hasn't any children; she lost her son and her husband years ago, and they say she's gone a little queer. Anyway, she's cooked up some grievance against Mrs. Hibbs and she won't see her any more, and she lives down there with a doctor and this housekeeper, Flora Mockbee, and won't see nobody. Well, that makes Mrs. Hibbs feel bad; you can't blame her! She's afraid that they'll get all the money, the doctor and the housekeeper and dear knows who!"

"And I'd be supposed to influence her to forgive her niece and make another will?"

"Not at all, dear! You're not supposed to do anything but bring her her trays and play cards with her and amuse her. She says it's important to have the nurse young and pretty; she's tired of seeing nobody but the housekeeper—she's middle aged, Miss Mockbee is—and the doctor—he's probably old, too. She wants someone new."

"But then where does the lawyer come in?"

"All he wants you to do is keep an eye open in the interests of his clients—that's all. If the housekeeper and the doctor are influencing Mrs. Prendergast, then you're to report it. And for that you get an extra hundred a month. They put it in the bank for you."

Page's eyes flashed golden lights. "That's—that's money," she said.

"Well, that's what I told you."

"Why d'you suppose they call the place Mystery House "

"Oh, there's a lot of talk about it. She keeps building onto it, for one thing. They say there's a hundred rooms."

"It sounds coo-coo," said the girl.

"Well, it's just her idea," Mrs. Hurley said, leniently. "She's had a lot of sorrow; her husband died, and her son died, and it seems she communed with them."

"Great Allah!" Page ejaculated. "Spooks?"

"Lots of old ladies go that way. She thought—she thinks her husband told her, years and years ago, to go on building. That's why the house is so big. She never stops building."

"Crazy, eh?"

"Oh, no, no, she's not crazy. All is," Mrs. Hurley said, trying to make it all sound only amusing and understandable, "she lives in the past. She's been building onto this place for yes . . . it seems she believes that as long as the carpenters' hammers are heard there she won't die."

"Wouldn't you think she'd want to die, and join the spirits?"

"Well, they never do, somehow. Her housekeeper died last Fall—that was Mrs. Mockbee, this Miss Flora's mother—and she took that very hard. Mrs. Hibbs says she hasn't been right since. Well, if you didn't like it you could always come home."

"I might like it," Page said, her eyes dancing. "She might take a fancy to me, and leave me a fortune some day."

"She'll leave more than a fortune. She's got the Prendergast diamond," Mrs. Hurley said in a half whisper. "One of the biggest diamonds in the world."

"Who has? Mrs. Hibbs?"

"Mrs. Prendergast. That's one of the things that's worrying Mrs. Hibbs. She wants to know, when her aunt dies, who's going to get that diamond. Mrs. Hibbs' mother is the old lady's only sister; she's a Mrs. Roy; she lives in India somewhere. She wrote Mrs. Hibbs to be sure to have everything all understood about the pink diamond."

"A pink diamond? Thrills!" Page exulted.

"Her husband, old Rutger Prendergast, bought it years ago when he sold a mine or something. It's known all over the world. They say it's the size of a pigeon's egg. Anyway, the Hibbs will pay you a hundred a month for keeping an eye on it."

"Mrs. Prendergast, of course, is not to know that I've ever heard of them?"

"Oh good gracious, no!"

"She doesn't know that you know them?"

"I don't know them. I've only seen their lawyer, Bishop, twice. He came into my office about three weeks ago and asked me if old Mrs. Prendergast ever sent in to me for girls to go down there and work. I says no, that she kept Chinese help and I don't handle them at all. He says that if ever she did, please to telephone him as there was something in it for us all.

"Well, my dear, you hadn't gone out of the office day before yesterday when a letter came from Flora Mockbee asking for a nurse, and it come to me like a flash that you was the one to go down there. So I telephoned Mr. Bishop and he come in and told me this whole story."

"It sounds kind of wild and weird," Page mused, aloud.

"Well, there's a telephone there, and there's always the doctor. She threw the local man out, Mr. Bishop said, some time last Summer, and she's got a resident physician. And, who knows," Mrs. Hurley said comfortably, "you might like her! It'd be easy work; she's not sick, you know. And there's always the money."

"Change, too," Page said, still slightly hesitant. "I'll go down there and see what's going on, anyway. And am I to report to you, or to Mr. Bishop?"

"Don't report to anyone unless there's something unusual going on."

"Me and Mata Hari!" said Page.

* * *

"It almost feels as if we might have a little shower," Page suggested pleasantly. The man laughed suddenly and abruptly, and glanced down at her as if for the first time he really saw her.

He did not see her very clearly. Night was black upon the little station platform at Belmont, and the rain was thudding down upon the umbrella he held against the wind over Page and himself.

He was Dr. Randall Harwood, old Mrs. Prendergast's physician; he had come down on the same train from San Francisco with Page, but they had not identified each other until a moment ago. Now, laughing, caught by the rain, they waited together for the arrival of the doctor's car. He was to drive Page to Mystery House.

"How far is it?"

"Mystery House About — well, Halfmoon Bay's 12 miles right over the grade, and then we have—oh, less than 20 more," the doctor said. "In pleasant weather it takes only an hour. But we'll have to go slow tonight. Ah, here's the garage man with the car! Get in, Miss Hazeltyne; I'll take care of your bags."

VISUAL CARE Is Important!

TIME was, when the test of vision was the farthest distance the patient's eyes could see clearly. Next came the task of making the patient visually comfortable. Both these are of value, but today's Optometry also answers the question, "How effective is his vision for the particular position he wishes to hold or the job he needs to do?" An Optometric examination or visual analysis finds the needs and provides the indices for keen, comfortable-seeing corrective lenses. As work occupies the greater part of waking hours, suiting the eyes to work has made amazing advances in productivity in many factories and elsewhere.

Need of Sleep

By DR. J. B. WARREN

Babies like all small animals, sleep most of the time. Children need two to four hours more than adults. Nine hours for growing boys and girls is needed and eight hours for men and women past 25. While some individuals may seem to need more sleep than this, it is usually because some infection is present—teeth, tonsils, sinus, lower bowel and gall bladder. Any man, woman or child who feels sleepy all the time is likely suffering from infection.

Ministers Ask Shorter Hours For Beer Sale

Liquor advertising was condemned and closing of beer parlors by two additional hours daily recommended by British Columbia's United Church ministers yesterday.

Delegates to the 24th British Columbia Conference, meeting at First United Church, said liquor advertising increases rather than restricts [illegible] the sale and consumption of liquor.

They declared it inconsistent with temperance instruction given in schools and tending to undermine confidence in teachers and schools giving such instruction.

Delegates endorsed resolutions restricting sale of beer to between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 9 p.m.

They defined temperance as self-control and warned that the present daily period in which beer parlors are open "are seriously affecting family life, increasing divorce rates and juvenile delinquency."

Sale of beer, the United Church ministers alleged, leads to an increase in crime and social diseases and reductions in family income.

Chief Suspends Police Officer

Following the Saturday night escape from jail of Robert N. J. Carlow and Bernard Bowcott, a police sergeant has been temporarily suspended, Acting Chief of Police John Blackstock said yesterday.

The sergeant was on duty at the desk when the break occurred about 9:40 p.m. Saturday. The pair were captured by Constable James Strong in a vacant lot on Fisgard Street near the station.

Mayor Percy E. George, chairman of the police commission, said last night details of the escape have been given the commission by Acting Chief Blackstock.

He said the commission will discuss it at a future meeting.

B.C. Bush Fires Fewer This Year

Only 22 forest fires have been reported in British Columbia this season as against 134 in 1947 and 183 in 1946, the Forest Service reported yesterday.

Cost of fighting the fires to date has been $331.

The Vancouver District, which includes Vancouver Island, has reported only two fires this season.

Last week throughout B.C., 11 fires started and 11 were extinguished.

Tour Through Interior of B.C. Is Planned by Y.M.C.A. Group

Visits to industrial plants, fruit farms and points of historical and scenic interest will be made by a group of 30 Victoria Y.M.C.A. members between July 3 and 11 during an "educational tour" through the Lower Interior of British Columbia, first event of its kind held by a Y.M.C.A. in the Pacific Northwest.

Plans for the event have now been completed according to Bob Morrison, program secretary for the Victoria Y.M.C.A.

The group, comprising young men and women, will leave midnight July 3, and arrive at Vancouver the following morning to board a special bus and proceed through the Fraser Valley, the Fraser Canyon and on to Kamloops. They will spend a night somewhere in the canyon.

Vernon and Kelowna will be the next stops, and at the latter city they will go on a tour of fruit farms and various other industries. At Summerland the group will visit the experimental farm, later proceeding to Penticton where they will remain several days before heading for Hedley.

MAY SEE MINE

It is hoped arrangements will be made for a tour of mining establishments at Hedley. From that city the group will carry on to Princeton and Merrit. Present plans call for the members to be back in Vancouver July 11.

Purpose of the tour, said Mr. Morrison, is to give youth of Victoria an opportunity to know the British Columbia Interior better.

A second tour has been planned for some time toward the end of July, when a group will visit the Campbell River district on Vancouver Island. It will be a week-end journey, and transportation will be provided by a special chartered bus.

A third such tour will be held between August 8 to 15, when another group will tour to Forbidden Plateau, Vancouver Island. That tour will include a visit to Mount Albert Edward, and the famous ice caves of the plateau. A movie camera will be taken to the caves.

"LOOK what Hot Water 'Packaged-in-Glass' meant to our house...

BATHS ARE EVEN MORE WONDERFUL...
"... now I know the bath water is really clean! Now that we have an Inglis Glasteel Water Heater our water is heated in GLASS and stored in GLASS. Naturally, glass can't rust so there can never be any nasty tank rust or corrosion ... Our new kind of hot water is so pure I use it for cooking, too."
DISHES COME SPARKLING CLEAN...
"... much faster with any kind of soap or powder. Never any unpleasant rust stains to clean off the sink, either. And it's so nice to know I'm not soaking my hands in water full of tank-formed impurities any more. And what a blessing never to have to wait ... washday or any day I just turn the tap and get all the hot water I need."
THE NEIGHBORS THINK I'M CRAZY...
"... singing on washday! But I feel like it now that I get so much clean, ready-to-go-to-work, hot water. Never a chance of getting unsightly rust stains on my best things any more. All my housework is so much easier since we got that wonderful Inglis Glasteel Water Heater. And it's so easy to pay for ... we never even miss the payments."

...and my husband's amazed at how much we SAVE!"

"HONESTLY, I'd never have believed what a blessing it is to be able to get all the clean hot water you want all the time. When that Inglis dealer showed me how much nasty rust and corrosion forms on the inside of an ordinary metal water heater tank . . . well, I just squirmed to think that I'd been washing in water from a thing like that.

"I don't pretend to understand how they do it, but the Inglis people put a glass lining in this water heater tank that's actually a part of the steel of the tank, so my water is heated in GLASS—stored in GLASS.

"It's wonderful how this new kind of hot water helps me cut corners. I just put the saucepan, or percolator, or whatever, under the hot water tap . . . on to the stove, and it's boiling in a jiffy.

"And I never have to worry about lighting the jacket heater (ugh . . . messy job) or turning it off, either. My new Inglis Glasteel Water Heater is completely automatic . . ."

"FRANKLY, I thought the price of this Inglis Water Heater was a lot of dough to lay out! Boy, did my Inglis dealer ever open my eyes wide on that count! 'You're spending more than that anyway, so you might as well own it and save money.' You see, ordinary metal heaters—even the insulated kind—waste so much money in 'stand-by loss' (that's what it costs to keep the water hot even if I never use any) that saving most of this expense alone will almost pay for my Inglis Water Heater.

"And the tank of this heater is lined with glass so that it will give a whole lifetime of service without repairs or replacements!

"I was shocked to find out I'd been wasting 20% of my fuel with a furnace coil. Now the heat I pay for heats water! And to think I got this tremendous water heater put in my home for less than forty-five bucks. The payments? Less than I spend on cigarettes!"

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

THE "ORCHESTRA" AND THE "CHIOR"—FROM "TO DANCE"

Today the words "orchestra" and "choir" denote, among the other things, certain places—the orchestra in the theatre, and in church the choir, the place reserved for the singers. That would seem to be a far cry from the meaning of "to dance," which is how both words started!

"Orchestra" derives through the Latin "orchestra" from the Greek orchestai, which meant "to dance"! The process of the word's evolution was this: From "to dance" the Greek word came to denote that place in the ancient Greek theatre where the chorus, an important element in the drama of antiquity, danced and sang. The ancient Greek theatres were, of course, in the open, and the place where the chorus danced was between the stage and the audience.

Later, when it came to the Roman amphitheatre, the same place—the orchestra—was reserved for persons of distinction. Eventually it became the location for the instrumental musicians who are now themselves referred to as an "orchestra." Finally, in this country, the seats on all of the lower floor of a theatre or concert hall, formerly called, in England, "the pit," came also into the name "orchestra"!

And now to the "choir" of the church, which is, of course, named for the choir who sing there. This word, too, started with the meaning "to dance," coming directly from the Old English quer from the French chouer, from the Latin choros, "a choral dance." The original derivation here was in the sense of dance—circular movement—which evolved also in the word "choreography." The song part was at first secondary, but it eclipsed the sense of its origin to give us the "choir" of today.
